A SERIOUS ACCIDENT NEAR NEW CUMBERLAND

The waters of the Ohio proved to be the grave of William Krowthers Monday evening at New Cumberland, and three other men nearly met with the same fate. All were employes of the towboat Tom Rees No. 2, which was attempting to tie up in the New Cumberland harbor for the night.

The list of dead and injured are:

The story of the accident is as follows: Knowing the treacherous current of the river below New Cumberland it was decided to tie up at the harbor there for the night and proceed in the morning. Captain Dippold ordered the boat to the shore and four men to take the yawl. The work had proceeded well until one of the main yawl lines had been stretched when the boat was drawn into a current directly toward the wheel of the Rees. This was done so quickly that none of the party had time to jump.

All four were drawn under the paddles and it was miraculous that any of them escaped with their lives. Brown was struck on the right side and arm by the wheel and rendered almost unconscious. He was rescued with great difficulty and will recover. Simonton, in trying to escape the wheel was swimming away as he thought, when he was struck in the back by one of the paddles and drawn under the big boat. He was rescued from the main deck. O'Hannon succeeded in escaping injury from the wheel by catching the paddles and giving himself a heavy push aside. The offices of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company were informed of the accident as soon as the rescues were made.

BITTEN BY A SUPPOSED MAD DOG

Chester Man Suddenly Attacked by an Animal Thought to Have Rabies.

Thomas McCoy, of Indiana avenue, Chester, was bitten by a dog this morning which is supposed to have been affected with rabies. The dog is a large shepherd which belonged to Mr. McCoy, and while not particularly a pet was never considered vicious. This morning it was noticed acting strangely and ran into the house. At first it began to run around in an aimless sort of a way paying but little attention to any one. Some of the members of the family tried to stop it, but were snapped at by the animal. They suspected that it had gone mad and when it ran into the room where Mr. McCoy was he got a shot gun to kill it.

Just as he raised the gun to shoot the animal jumped at him and bit him quite severely. The dog then ran out of the room, but before it had gone away was shot. Mr. McCoy sent for a physician at once and the wound was dressed. It was impossible to tell whether the dog had hydrophobia or not, but it is thought that he had. It is known that several other dogs of that vicinity were with it only a short time before and a close watch will be kept on them. If they show any signs of rabies they will be killed.

People in the vicinity of Mr. McCoy's home are greatly agitated over the occurrence and will procure muzzles for their dogs and the children will be guarded. A dog supposed to have been mad was killed a short time ago in the vicinity of Chester, but it was not thought it had been with any other dogs.

SEARCH MADE UNSUCCESSFULLY

OFFICERS WITH A WARRANT LOOKED FOR STOLEN WARE.

After running down a clue which they thought would result in the arrest of the persons who entered the sample room of the East Liverpool Potteries company several weeks and stole a number of valuable jardiniers, local officers obtained a search warrant from the court of 'Squire McCarron early last evening and proceeded to the building occupied by Stella Mears as a saloon. There they made a thorough search, but were unsuccessful in locating any of the ware or in ascertaining anything that might lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The robbery was committed about January 1 and was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in a local pottery. In the sample rooms of the potteries a large stock of the finest ware turned out is to be found and the rooms are generally watched very carefully. The evening that the jardiniers were stolen the men did their work so quickly and quietly that their presence was not known until the following day.

It is the opinion of the officers that persons well acquainted with the rooms did the nefarious work, and they have several local characters under suspicion. The exact value of the goods purloined is not known, but it will not fall short of $100. The jardiniers had been made to order and were of a much higher class than those ordinarily placed on the market. They had been placed in the room only the day before, and considering the fact that no other ware was disturbed it is thought conclusive that men of the city obtained the ware.

TWO VICTIMS OF EVIL DOERS

ONE MAN DOPED AND ANOTHER WAS ROBBED.

Sensational Stories Told By Those Who Did Not Report to the Police.

Smoky Row was the scene of considerable excitement last Monday evening and though the residents of that district have talked about it ever since the matter has never been reported to the police.

Two men were rendered unconscious by the drinking of a quantity of liquor in a saloon at the lower end of town. Their names could not be learned today, everyone approached professing ignorance. One of them after taking a drink left the saloon and started up toward the National House. Upon his arrival there he was staggering and in a moment fell prostrate to the floor. A physician was summoned who experienced much trouble in reviving his patient. He pronounced him suffering from "dope" placed in the whisky. When the man finally regained consciousness he was removed from the hotel to the home of a friend on West Market street where he remained until last evening when he departed for Parkersburg.

The second individual causing the stir was in a state delirium tremens and claimed that he had been robbed. A large amount of money and several rings, given him by sisters who are now dead, making the jewelry doubly valuable, according to his story, were stolen while he was lying in the rear of one of the most notorious joints. He applied to Attorney James McGarry for advice in recovering the articles, but before making arrangements he left the office and no more has been heard from him.

Columbus, February 4.—(Special)—The supreme court has dismissed the case of the city of Wellsville against Patrick O'Connor, for want of prepara tion. O'Connor and Edward Bunting were arrested on an affidavit filed by Samuel Lampkin, who claimed the men had assaulted him. The circuit court sustained the common pleas court and the city carried the suit to the supreme court.

The termination of the suit is a victory for O'Connor. The trouble occurred during the strike of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers, and this organizaton backed O'Connor, who was one of its members.

POWER WAS OFF FOR THREE HOURS

Many Journeyed From and to Wellsville In the Rain and Mud.

The power of both the local street railway lines went off at 3:20 yesterday afternoon and the cars did not move again until 6:30. Hundreds of people were inconvenienced. One of the engines that drives the generators at the power house became overheated and it was necessary to shut down until repairs could be made.

A great many of the cars were well filled with passengers when the power went off. Several of the cars were caught between this city and their destination. On them were many passengers for whom the only alternative from the long wait was to wade out through the mud.

The shut down extended over the time of the supper hour when hundreds of people use the cars in reaching their homes from work. Quite a number of the employes of the river potteries live in the West End and in Wellsville and many of them took the long walk in the rain and through the mud in preference to waiting. A number of persons also walked from Wellsville to this city. The conditions were about the same on the Southside line, the muddy condition of the Chester streets, adding to the discomfort of the travelers.

The meeting, which was attended by nearly every sanitary presser in this city and Bordentown, lasted until after midnight. President Hughes was present and advised the men as to what course to pursue. According to the reports submitted at the meeting the amount of "dunted" ware distributed about the various potteries will aggregate nearly $1,000. The committee which will confer with the manufacturers consists of Jas. T. Cotton, Thos. Dennis, Reuben McDevitt, William Heaton, and David Moore.

Their attention was attracted to the woman by her standing with her head bowed and giving vent to pitiful sobs. Approaching her her they asked the reason for her unhappy plight and she without hesitancy unfolded her story.

Just a little over two years ago she ment Hanson, who was a painter by trade, and after a short courtship they were married. Going to housekeeping immediately their life was one of continuous happiness. The husband made good wages, was sober, industrious and made a model helpmeet. In October last a baby came to brighten the home and then their life was still more happy. But this last chapter only lasted a short time. During the latter part of December the husband became ill with typhoid-pneumonia and while he lay on his death bed their treasured

The power of both the local street railway lines went off at 3:20 yesterday afternoon and the cars did not move again until 6:30. Hundreds of people were inconvenienced. One of the engines that drives the generators at the power house became overheated and it was necessary to shut down until repairs could be made.

A great many of the cars were well filled with passengers when the power went off. Several of the cars were caught between this city and their destination. On them were many passengers for whom the only alternative from the long wait was to wade out through the mud.

The shut down extended over the time of the supper hour when hundreds of people use the cars in reaching their homes from work. Quite a number of the employes of the river potteries live in the West End and in Wellsville and many of them took the long walk in the rain and through the mud in preference to waiting. A number of persons also walked from Wellsville to this city. The conditions were about the same on the Southside line, the muddy condition of the Chester streets, adding to the discomfort of the travelers.

WANDERED ABOUT TOWN ALL NIGHT

Mourning the irreparable loss of her husband and infant child, both of whom died on the same day during the first week of January at their home in a suburb of Cleveland, Mrs. Burt Hanson wandered the streets of the city last night until the early hours of the morning, having come to the city in search of a brother, who, the last she heard from him, was employed in a local pottery.

At 1 o'clock the unfortunate woman was discovered standing in the doorway of William Erlanger's store on Fifth street by Samuel Dunbar and a companion, who had been spending the evening in the East End and missing the last car were compelled to walk to their boarding house in Church alley. Their attention was attracted to the woman by her standing with her head bowed and giving vent to pitiful sobs. Approaching her her they asked the reason for her unhappy plight and she without hesitancy unfolded her story.

Just a little over two years ago she ment Hanson, who was a painter by trade, and after a short courtship they were married. Going to housekeeping immediately their life was one of continuous happiness. The husband made good wages, was sober, industrious and made a model helpmeet. In October last a baby came to brighten the home and then their life was still more happy. But this last chapter only lasted a short time. During the latter part of December the husband became ill with typhoid-pneumonia and while he lay on his death bed their treasured

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT NEAR NEW CUMBERLAND

The waters of the Ohio proved to be the grave of William Krowthers Monday evening at New Cumberland, and three other men nearly met with the same fate. All were employes of the towboat Tom Rees No. 2, which was attempting to tie up in the New Cumberland harbor for the night.

The list of dead and injured are:

The story of the accident is as follows: Knowing the treacherous current of the river below New Cumberland it was decided to tie up at the harbor there for the night and proceed in the morning. Captain Dippold ordered the boat to the shore and four men to take the yawl. The work had proceeded well until one of the main yawl lines had been stretched when the boat was drawn into a current directly toward the wheel of the Rees. This was done so quickly that none of the party had time to jump.

All four were drawn under the paddles and it was miraculous that any of them escaped with their lives. Brown was struck on the right side and arm by the wheel and rendered almost unconscious. He was rescued with great difficulty and will recover. Simonton, in trying to escape the wheel was swimming away as he thought, when he was struck in the back by one of the paddles and drawn under the big boat. He was rescued from the main deck. O'Hannon succeeded in escaping injury from the wheel by catching the paddles and giving himself a heavy push aside. The offices of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company were informed of the accident as soon as the rescues were made.

BITTEN BY A SUPPOSED MAD DOG

Chester Man Suddenly Attacked by an Animal Thought to Have Rabies.

Thomas McCoy, of Indiana avenue, Chester, was bitten by a dog this morning which is supposed to have been affected with rabies. The dog is a large shepherd which belonged to Mr. McCoy, and while not particularly a pet was never considered vicious. This morning it was noticed acting strangely and ran into the house. At first it began to run around in an aimless sort of a way paying but little attention to any one. Some of the members of the family tried to stop it, but were snapped at by the animal. They suspected that it had gone mad and when it ran into the room where Mr. McCoy was he got a shot gun to kill it.

Just as he raised the gun to shoot the animal jumped at him and bit him quite severely. The dog then ran out of the room, but before it had gone away was shot. Mr. McCoy sent for a physician at once and the wound was dressed. It was impossible to tell whether the dog had hydrophobia or not, but it is thought that he had. It is known that several other dogs of that vicinity were with it only a short time before and a close watch will be kept on them. If they show any signs of rabies they will be killed.

People in the vicinity of Mr. McCoy's home are greatly agitated over the occurrence and will procure muzzles for their dogs and the children will be guarded. A dog supposed to have been mad was killed a short time ago in the vicinity of Chester, but it was not thought it had been with any other dogs.

After running down a clue which they thought would result in the arrest of the persons who entered the sample room of the East Liverpool Potteries company several weeks and stole a number of valuable jardiniers, local officers obtained a search warrant from the court of 'Squire McCarron early last evening and proceeded to the building occupied by Stella Mears as a saloon. There they made a thorough search, but were unsuccessful in locating any of the ware or in ascertaining anything that might lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The robbery was committed about January 1 and was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in a local pottery. In the sample rooms of the potteries a large stock of the finest ware turned out is to be found and the rooms are generally watched very carefully. The evening that the jardiniers were stolen the men did their work so quickly and quietly that their presence was not known until the following day.

It is the opinion of the officers that persons well acquainted with the rooms did the nefarious work, and they have several local characters under suspicion. The exact value of the goods purloined is not known, but it will not fall short of $100. The jardiniers had been made to order and were of a much higher class than those ordinarily placed on the market. They had been placed in the room only the day before, and considering the fact that no other ware was disturbed it is thought conclusive that men of the city obtained the ware.

MISSING FROM HOME SINCE LAST SATURDAY

John Sanders, of the East End, applied to central police station last night for assistance in locating his son, John, who is but 13 years of age, and who mysteriously left his home on last Saturday evening. The lad has given his parents much trouble and has often threatened to run away from home, and it is their supposition that he is now on a trip.

The lad is a dime novel reader, and derives much pleasure from occupying his time in the reading of the vile literature. Police in nearby cties will be asked to keep watch for him.

Sensational Stories Told By Those Who Did Not Report to the Police.

Smoky Row was the scene of considerable excitement last Monday evening and though the residents of that district have talked about it ever since the matter has never been reported to the police.

Two men were rendered unconscious by the drinking of a quantity of liquor in a saloon at the lower end of town. Their names could not be learned today, everyone approached professing ignorance. One of them after taking a drink left the saloon and started up toward the National House. Upon his arrival there he was staggering and in a moment fell prostrate to the floor. A physician was summoned who experienced much trouble in reviving his patient. He pronounced him suffering from "dope" placed in the whisky. When the man finally regained consciousness he was removed from the hotel to the home of a friend on West Market street where he remained until last evening when he departed for Parkersburg.

The second individual causing the stir was in a state delirium tremens and claimed that he had been robbed A large amount of money and several rings, given him by sisters who are now dead, making the jewelry doubly valuable, according to his story, were stolen while he was lying in the rear of one of the most notorious joints He applied to Attorney James McGarry for advice in recovering the articles, but before making arrangements he left the office and no more has been heard from him.

HIGHEST WATER OF THE YEAR

The river is rising rapidly today and is now higher than at any time during the year. The stage is about 23 feet but it is expected to reach 25 and possibly 30 on this rise. While no danger of a floor is apprehended at the present time the condition are not entirely unfavorable owing to the mild weather. A heavy general rain at this juncture would swell the stream out of its banks. If there are no more rains the rise will pass before tomorrow night.

The Keystone State is due down tonight from Pittsburg and the Ben Hur is due at 9 from Parkersburg.

A UNIQUE POTTERY.

In Beverly, Mass., is a pottery that is unique and which has become famous from the fact that there are made reproductions from the world's greatest originals, and some of the most valuable relics in existence have been taken there by wealthy Americans to be reproduced by a man who got his inspiration in a dream. For until one night thirty years ago, when he was awakened from a dream in which a voice called upon him to start a pottery of his own, he was a salesman for one that had its beginning in Peabody in the seventeenth century. it was not until a number of prominent people became interested in his worth that Mr. Lawrence branched out into his present line, but in 1872 he was visited by Mrs. Dennie T. Broadman, Mrs. John Mason Little, of Boston, and Mrs. Curtis, of New York, who showed him the relics that had been brought to them from abroad, desiring that they should be reproduced by him. Mr. Lawrence examined the models and succeeded so well in his work that he received immediately large and extensive orders.

His work was very much admired by the people who lived along the shore, and orders came in so rapidly that it was with difficulty they were filled. The work grew and spread until there is no part of the United States that has not through orders obtained his work.

Rare and choice bits have been sent for reproduction. One lady from New York while in Europe visited Pompeii several times, and was repeatedly driven away before she succeeded in obtaining sixty choice and rare pieces of pottery that were sent to Mr. Lawrence for reproduction. Hagar's jugs and Rebecca's wells are common among the varieties, while a head of Pan has been molded and clay cast giving all exact representation of the original.

There is the reproduction of the first lamp known in the world, the model being furnished by Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, the authenticity of which was decided through the investigation of three professors.

Sir Henry Englefield, at the sale of Sir John Ccughill, in England, purchased a vase valued at $10,000, the ornamentation being that of Ariadne giving to Theseus the thread by which he could extricate himself from the labyrinth. This was sent to the pottery and a reproduction was made.

The graceful forms of ancient pottery have been for ages the admiration of cinnoisseurs in art, but this was the first time they were reproduced. Many imitations are on the market, but the original is identified through the fact that all of the work is done in Beverly upon the potter's wheel which was invented three hundred years B. C. Two workmen are constantly employed and their wonderful touch and skill are seen as perfect copies are transformed from the same piece of clay, changing at the notion of the visitor.

It was during a visit to the battlefield at Gettysburg that Mr. Lawrence noticed the clay that was on the field and asked to be allowed to buy some. Fifty pounds were given to him, and this was made into tiny bean pots that were sold so rapidly that hundreds of barrels have been ordered that the demand may be filled.

This pottery is during the season visited by all of the summer residents, who not only order the reproductions to be sent to their homes at the seashore, but send large orders during the winter months for gifts to their many friends.

SUCCEEDS MACAULEY.

The announcement has been made that Charles Dorff, formerly of this city, is to succeed Charles Macauley, who resigned to accept the management of the new pottery at Cameron. Mr. Dorff has many friends in this city who will be pleased to hear of his advancement and who believe that he is in every way qualified to fill the postion. He has been in the employ of Sebring potteries, principally as a jiggerman, ever since the new pottery town has had a place on the map and at present is president of Local No. 44. He has a large circle of friends in Sebring.

FORMING A LOCAL.

It is stated that John Houser, the well known jiggerman, and Fred Livesly, the mouldmaker, will accept situations with the new pottery at Derry. The report has it that they will leave for that city at the end of next week.

BOWLING CONTEST

Will Be Witnessed on the Imperial Alleys Tonight By an Interested Crowd.

Captain Shingler's bowling team, of Wellsville, will be the attraction at the Craig & Carhahan alleys this evening. They sent word to Manager Craig yesterday that the three games postponed last week on account of the sickness of a player will be played without fail. The series will be the second of three arranged for some time ago and which will determine the championship of the two cities. Due to the bitter enmity which has arisen between the backers of the two teams the games will be watched by a large crowd and much interest will be displayed.

The lineups will be as follows:

Ohio Valley League.

An Ohio Valley league is the latest with the following towns to be represented: Zanesville, Cambridge, Gallipolis, Middleport, Pomeroy, Chillicothe, Circleville, Wellston, Portsmouth, Washington C. H., Sidney, Piqua and Wapakoneta, O., Ashland and Maysville, Ky., Charleston, Huntington, Sistersville, Clarkeburg and Parkersburg, W. Va. A meeting will be held at Parkersburg, February 12.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Danny Dougherty is another American puglist who has been told that he can make money across the water, as there are plenty of lads ready to fight him. Dougherty usually fights at 115 pounds.

Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," who has threatened to retire from the ring on divers occasions, has issued a challenge to box Jack Palmer, the English middleweight champion, for $1,000 a side.

The proposed match between Dave Sullivan and Joe Bernstein which was to have been decided at Boston, has been abandoned for the present. Sullivan is now looking for a match with any 123 pounder.

George Dixon has signed papers for a twenty-round bout with Harry Ware, of London. They are to box for $500 a side and a purse of $1,500 in London on February 9, before the National A. C. The weight is 118 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the scrap.

The proposed match between "Kid" Lavinge and Ben Jordan before the National Sporting club, of London, was abandoned because the pair could not agree to the question of weight. Lavinge wants to fight at 130 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock, while Jordan will not scale over 128 pounds.

A battle for the lightweight championship of Australia was decided recently before the National Sporting club, Sydney. The principals were Jack McGowan, of Melbourne, and Charles Frost, of Sydney. It was a rattling fight from the start and lasted fifteen rounds. McGowan being the victor. McGowan is thinking of visiting America.

Since the defeat of Eddie Connolly by Jem Clark, the latter has been much inquired after with respect to actual nationality. It is said that he is in reality an American, but in any case a man to be feared. Several boxers in London are desirous of making a match with him. Clark declares that he will talk business as soon as they post forfeits.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful safe of this preparation since first introduced in East Liverpool and the remarkable results following its use, have made Will Reed such an enthusiastic believer in the great value of Mi-o-na that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na will not make thin people fat, cure indigestion and restore health.

This is a strong guarantee, but Druggist Will Reed has seen so many of his customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons, become plump and well, solely through the use of Mi-o-na that he feels he cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good, rich blood, tones up the weakened digestive organs, helps the food to digest and makes permanent cures in the worst cases of indigestion.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, Feb. 4.—The professional element among the traders contested the apathetic condition of the stock market yesterday and developed some show of strength and activity before the close of the day. There was a very meager outside following and very little news on which to base the movement. The reactionary tendency during the morning became dominant and the professionals apparently resigned themselves to the neglected condition of the market.

The rate for call loans fell below 3 per cent during the day. This state of ease is due in large part to the determined quietude of speculation. It is manifest also that the powers in the money world have in view to build up their cash resources and to guard against the return of any such extended condition of credits as that which disquieted the country last fall. The market closed rather irregular.

Wabash debenture Bs overshadowed the bond market, which was otherwise irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,375,000.

Three Freight Trains Wrecked.

Goshen, Ind., Feb. 4.—Three freight trains on the Lake Shore railroad were wrecked in a blinding snowstorm here yesterday. A westbound train crashed into the rear of another and at the same time a fast dairy train, going east on another track, caught the caboose of the wrecked train as it was thrown in its way. The wreckage was piled high, blocking both tracks. The engine crews escaped with slight injuries. The wreck took fire and the engine, caboose and three cars were burned. The Goshen fire department prevented the destruction of the entire train by checking the spread of the flames to several oil tank cars.

Robbers Captured.

Cambridge, Ill., Feb. 4.—The First National bank here was robbed of about $10,000 at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by four men, and within a few hours the robbers were captured by citizens and marched to the county jail, where they are now held pending an examination. No trace of the money has yet been discovered, but it is believed it will be found soon, as the robbers had practically no time for effective concealment of it.

Large Ship Wrecked.

London, Feb. 4.—Advices from Bar Head say that a large ship has been wrecked off Duraborg reef, that only the foremast of the vessel is standing and that her sails are tattered. From the wreckage washed ashore she is thought to be the French bark Vanstable, Captain Quimper, which sailed from Glasgow, Jan. 17, for San Francisco. The body of a boy has been found, but the fate of the rest of the vessel's crew is not known.

Senate Yesterday Passed Elkins Bill to Further Regulate Railroad Transportation.

House Spent Almost Entire Day on Claims Measures—Venezuelan Matter Considered at Cabinet Meeting. Opposition to Hobson's Retirement.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The senate yesterday passed without objection or discussion the Elkins bill to further regulate railroad transportation. It is one of a number of measures presented in this congress concerning corporations and has particular reference to railroads. The text of the bill, with the amendments made in committee, have been published heretofore.

The army appropriation bill, which went over Monday, at the request of Mr. Pettus, was passed. The provision establisning a general staff was eliminated. Later, the independent measure, identical in its provisions with the general staff section of the army bill, was passed, after having been reconsidered to permit the incorporation of an amendment by Mr. Berry placing the chief of staff exclusively under the direction of the president. The bill now goes to conference.

Mr. Quarles continued his remarks in opposition to the statehood bill.

At 4:10 o'clock the senate, on motion of Mr. Cullom, went into executive session and at 4:50 adjourned until today.

In the House.

The house spent practically the whole day on claims bills coming over from last week. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, fought them all, but succeeded in defeating only three bills. After the claims measures were disposed of general debate on the postoffice appropriation bill was resumed, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri, addressed the house on the trust question.

The house at 5:05 p. m. adjourned.

Venezuelan Question Considered.

President Roosevelt and all the members of his cabinet were in session for an hour and a half yesterday, at least two subjects of importance occupying their attention. It is known that the Venezuelan question was under consideration for some time, but at the conclusion of the meeting no member of the cabinet would discuss, for publication, this phase of the meeting. It can be said that this government, while deeply interested in the pending negotiations has taken yet no part in the controversy. Both the president and his cabinet are entirely hopeful of an early adjustment of the difficulty, although it is realized fully that serious obstacles remain yet to be overcome.

Again yesterday the cabinet discused the award of bids recently received for the armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. A decision was reached and at the conclusion of the meeting Secretary Moody made public the following statement:

Contracts Awarded.

"The navy department has decided upon the award of contracts for the two 14,500-ton armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. The bid of William Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, for two vessels at $4,035,000, has been accepted for one vessel, with the stipulation offered that the plans of the government shall be followed. In view of the fact that the New York Shipbuilding company, of Camden, N. J., one of the best equipped shipyards in the world, is the only large ship yard in the United States not now accustomed to naval work, and as this company was also the lowest bidder for two ships on the government's plans, the second vessel has been awarded to it at the same price of $4,035,000. The only bid received from the Pacific coast was $4,365,000, which was not within the 4 per cent increase over the lowest accepted bid allowed by law for vessels built on that coast. These awards are approved by the president, as required by law."

The resignation of Captain Hobson from the navy was considered briefly, but it is understood that no determination yet has been reached whether the resignation will be accepted or not.

Want Hobson to Remain.

The navy department is unwilling to allow Constructor Hobson to retire from the navy, even upon resignation outright and the abandonment of the privilege of going upon the retired list. The reason for the unwillingness is the pressing need of the construction corps for the services of just such young officers as Mr. Hobson, and the effort will be made to induce him to remain on active duty. The construction corps has lost the services of four able officers during the past year, and with the rapidly increasing amount of construction work the navy department feels that it must stop the drain.

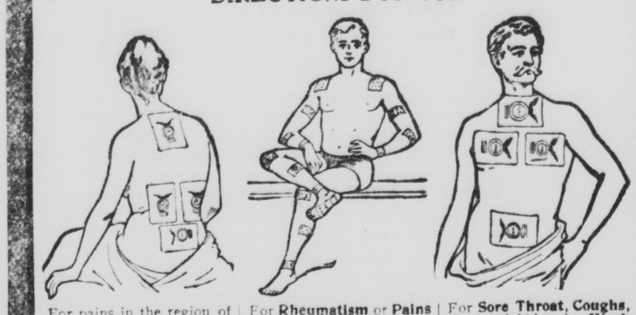

Two Youngstown Banks Combine.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 4.—The consolidation of the Dollar Savings and Banking company and the Peoples Savings and Banking company under the former name was completed yesterday. The company has a capitalization of $1,000,000. The resignation of John I. Williams, Sr., as president was accepted, and A. E. Adams, formerly treasurer, elected in his place.

BOWLING CONTEST

Will Be Witnessed on the Imperial Alleys Tonight By an Interested Crowd.

Captain Shingler's bowling team, of Wellsville, will be the attraction at the Craig & Carhahan alleys this evening. They sent word to Manager Craig yesterday that the three games postponed last week on account of the sickness of a player will be played without fail. The series will be the second of three arranged for some time ago and which will determine the championship of the two cities. Due to the bitter enmity which has arisen between the backers of the two teams the games will be watched by a large crowd and much interest will be displayed.

The lineups will be as follows:

Ohio Valley League.

An Ohio Valley league is the latest with the following towns to be represented: Zanesville, Cambridge, Gallipolis, Middleport, Pomeroy, Chillicothe, Circleville, Wellston, Portsmouth, Washington C. H., Sidney, Piqua and Wapakoneta, O., Ashland and Maysville, Ky., Charleston, Huntington, Sistersville, Clarkeburg and Parkersburg, W. Va. A meeting will be held at Parkersburg, February 12.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Danny Dougherty is another American puglist who has been told that he can make money across the water, as there are plenty of lads ready to fight him. Dougherty usually fights at 115 pounds.

Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," who has threatened to retire from the ring on divers occasions, has issued a challenge to box Jack Palmer, the English middleweight champion, for $1,000 a side.

The proposed match between Dave Sullivan and Joe Bernstein which was to have been decided at Boston, has been abandoned for the present. Sullivan is now looking for a match with any 123 pounder.

George Dixon has signed papers for a twenty-round bout with Harry Ware, of London. They are to box for $500 a side and a purse of $1,500 in London on February 9, before the National A. C. The weight is 118 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the scrap.

The proposed match between "Kid" Lavinge and Ben Jordan before the National Sporting club, of London, was abandoned because the pair could not agree to the question of weight. Lavinge wants to fight at 130 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock, while Jordan will not scale over 128 pounds.

A battle for the lightweight championship of Australia was decided recently before the National Sporting club, Sydney. The principals were Jack McGowan, of Melbourne, and Charles Frost, of Sydney. It was a rattling fight from the start and lasted fifteen rounds. McGowan being the victor. McGowan is thinking of visiting America.

Since the defeat of Eddie Connolly by Jem Clark, the latter has been much inquired after with respect to actual nationality. It is said that he is in reality an American, but in any case a man to be feared. Several boxers in London are desirous of making a match with him. Clark declares that he will talk business as soon as they post forfeits.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, Feb. 4.—The professional element among the traders contested the apathetic condition of the stock market yesterday and developed some show of strength and activity before the close of the day. There was a very meager outside following and very little news on which to base the movement. The reactionary tendency during the morning became dominant and the professionals apparently resigned themselves to the neglected condition of the market.

The rate for call loans fell below 3 per cent during the day. This state of ease is due in large part to the determined quietude of speculation. It is manifest also that the powers in the money world have in view to build up their cash resources and to guard against the return of any such extended condition of credits as that which disquieted the country last fall. The market closed rather irregular.

Three Freight Trains Wrecked.

Goshen, Ind., Feb. 4.—Three freight trains on the Lake Shore railroad were wrecked in a blinding snowstorm here yesterday. A westbound train crashed into the rear of another and at the same time a fast dairy train, going east on another track, caught the caboose of the wrecked train as it was thrown in its way. The wreckage was piled high, blocking both tracks. The engine crews escaped with slight injuries. The wreck took fire and the engine, caboose and three cars were burned. The Goshen fire department prevented the destruction of the entire train by checking the spread of the flames to several oil tank cars.

Cambridge, Ill., Feb. 4.—The First National bank here was robbed of about $10,000 at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by four men, and within a few hours the robbers were captured by citizens and marched to the county jail, where they are now held pending an examination. No trace of the money has yet been discovered, but it is believed it will be found soon, as the robbers had practically no time for effective concealment of it.

WITHOUT OBJECTION.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The senate yesterday passed without objection or discussion the Elkins bill to further regulate railroad transportation. It is one of a number of measures presented in this congress concerning corporations and has particular reference to railroads. The text of the bill, with the amendments made in committee, have been published heretofore.

The army appropriation bill, which went over Monday, at the request of Mr. Pettus, was passed. The provision establishing a general staff was eliminated. Later, the independent measure, identical in its provisions with the general staff section of the army bill, was passed, after having been reconsidered to permit the incorporation of an amendment by Mr. Berry placing the chief of staff exclusively under the direction of the president. The bill now goes to conference.

Mr. Quarles continued his remarks in opposition to the statehood bill.

At 4:10 o'clock the senate, on motion of Mr. Cullom, went into executive session and at 4:50 adjourned until today.

In the House.

The house spent practically the whole day on claims bills coming over from last week. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, fought them all, but succeeded in defeating only three bills. After the claims measures were disposed of general debate on the postoffice appropriation bill was resumed, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri, addressed the house on the trust question.

The house at 5:05 p. m. adjourned.

Venezuelan Question Considered.

President Roosevelt and all the members of his cabinet were in session for an hour and a half yesterday, at least two subjects of importance occupying their attention. It is known that the Venezuelan question was under consideration for some time, but at the conclusion of the meeting no member of the cabinet would discuss, for publication, this phase of the meeting. It can be said that this government, while deeply interested in the pending negotiations has taken yet no part in the controversy. Both the president and his cabinet are entirely hopeful of an early adjustment of the difficulty, although it is realized fully that serious obstacles remain yet to be overcome.

Again yesterday the cabinet discused the award of bids recently received for the armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. A decision was reached and at the conclusion of the meeting Secretary Moody made public the following statement:

Contracts Awarded.

"The navy department has decided upon the award of contracts for the two 14,500-ton armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. The bid of William Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, for two vessels at $4,035,000, has been accepted for one vessel, with the stipulation offered that the plans of the government shall be followed. In view of the fact that the New York Shipbuilding company, of Camden, N. J., one of the best equipped shipyards in the world, is the only large ship yard in the United States not now accustomed to naval work, and as this company was also the lowest bidder for two ships on the government's plans, the second vessel has been awarded to it at the same price of $4,035,000. The only bid received from the Pacific coast was $4,365,000, which was not within the 4 per cent increase over the lowest accepted bid allowed by law for vessels built on that coast. These awards are approved by the president, as required by law."

The resignation of Captain Hobson from the navy was considered briefly, but it is understood that no determination yet has been reached whether the resignation will be accepted or not.

Want Hobson to Remain.

The navy department is unwilling to allow Constructor Hobson to retire from the navy, even upon resignation outright and the abandonment of the privilege of going upon the retired list. The reason for the unwillingness is the pressing need of the construction corps for the services of just such young officers as Mr. Hobson, and the effort will be made to induce him to remain on active duty. The construction corps has lost the services of four able officers during the past year, and with the rapidly increasing amount of construction work the navy department feels that it must stop the drain.

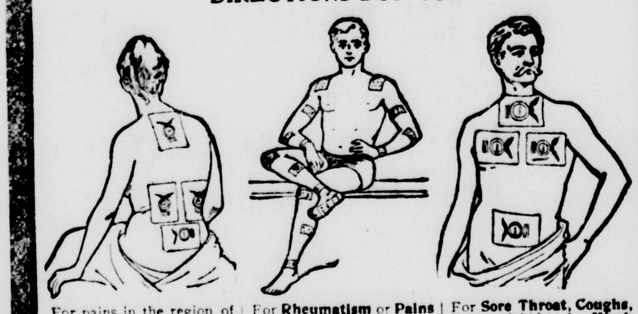

Two Youngstown Banks Combine.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 4.—The consolidation of the Dollar Savings and Banking company and the Peoples Savings and Banking company under the former name was completed yesterday. The company has a capitalization of $1,000,000. The resignation of John I. Williams, Sr., as president was accepted, and A. E. Adams, formerly treasurer, elected in his place.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A UNIQUE POTTERY.

In Beverly, Mass., is a pottery that is unique and which has become famous from the fact that there are made reproductions from the world's greatest originals, and some of the most valuable relics in existence have been taken there by wealthy Americans to be reproduced by a man who got his inspiration in a dream. For until one night thirty years ago, when he was awakened from a dream in which a voice called upon him to start a pottery of his own, he was a salesman for one that had its beginning in Peabody in the seventeenth century. it was not until a number of prominent people became interested in his worth that Mr. Lawrence branched out into his present line, but in 1872 he was visited by Mrs. Dennie T. Broadman, Mrs. John Mason Little, of Boston, and Mrs. Curtis, of New York, who showed him the relics that had been brought to them from abroad, desiring that they should be reproduced by him. Mr. Lawrence examined the models and succeeded so well in his work that he received immediately large and extensive orders.

His work was very much admired by the people who lived along the shore, and orders came in so rapidly that it was with difficulty they were filled. The work grew and spread until there is no part of the United States that has not through orders obtained his work.

Rare and choice bits have been sent for reproduction. One lady from New York while in Europe visited Pompeii several times, and was repeatedly driven away before she succeeded in obtaining sixty choice and rare pieces of pottery that were sent to Mr. Lawrence for reproduction. Hagar's jugs and Rebecca's wells are common among the varieties, while a head of Pan has been molded and clay cast giving all exact representation of the original.

There is the reproduction of the first lamp known in the world, the model being furnished by Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, the authenticity of which was decided through the investigation of three professors.

Sir Henry Englefield, at the sale of Sir John Coughill, in England, purchased a vase valued at $10,000, the ornamentation being that of Ariadne giving to Theseus the thread by which he could extricate himself from the labyrinth. This was sent to the pottery and a reproduction was made.

The graceful forms of ancient pottery have been for ages the admiration of cinnoisseurs in art, but this was the first time they were reproduced. Many imitations are on the market, but the original is identified through the fact that all of the work is done in Beverly upon the potter's wheel which was invented three hundred years B. C. Two workmen are constantly employed and their wonderful touch and skill are seen as perfect copies are transformed from the same piece of clay, changing at the notion of the visitor.

It was during a visit to the battlefield at Gettysburg that Mr. Lawrence noticed the clay that was on the field and asked to be allowed to buy some. Fifty pounds were given to him, and this was made into tiny bean pots that were sold so rapidly that hundreds of barrels have been ordered that the demand may be filled.

This pottery is during the season visited by all of the summer residents, who not only order the reproductions to be sent to their homes at the seashore, but send large orders during the winter months for gifts to their many friends.

SUCCEEDS MACAULEY.

The announcement has been made that Charles Dorff, formerly of this city, is to succeed Charles Macauley, who resigned to accept the management of the new pottery at Cameron. Mr. Dorff has many friends in this city who will be pleased to hear of his advancement and who believe that he is in every way qualified to fill the postion. He has been in the employ of Sebring potteries, principally as a jiggerman, ever since the new pottery town has had a place on the map and at present is president of Local No. 44. He has a large circle of friends in Sebring.

FORMING A LOCAL.

The general ware pressers of Trenton held their second meeting Monday night in the headquarters of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters in the Ribsam building. Preparations toward the formation of a local were forwarded by the addition of several new members. President Hughes and Vice President Hutchins were present and spoke.

MR. MOUNT IMPROVING.

William Mount, familiarly known as "Jack," is now able to get around again after his painful accident of several weeks ago in which he suffered a fractured leg. He is a member of the biscuit kiln crew at Cartwright and the boys are expecting him back next week.

WILL GO TO DERRY.

It is stated that John Houser, the well known jiggerman, and Fred Livesly, the mouldmaker, will accept situations with the new pottery at Derry. The report has it that they will leave for that city at the end of next week.

Senate Yesterday Passed Elkins Bill to Further Regulate Railroad Transportation.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The senate yesterday passed without objection or discussion the Elkins bill to further regulate railroad transportation. It is one of a number of measures presented in this congress concerning corporations and has particular reference to railroads. The text of the bill, with the amendments made in committee, have been published heretofore.

The army appropriation bill, which went over Monday, at the request of Mr. Pettus, was passed. The provision establisning a general staff was eliminated. Later the independent measure, identical in its provisions with the general staff section of the army bill, was passed, after having been reconsidered to permit the incorporation of an amendment by Mr. Berry placing the chief of staff exclusively under the direction of the president. The bill now goes to conference.

Mr. Quarles continued his remarks in opposition to the statehood bill.

At 4:10 o'clock the senate, on motion of Mr. Cullom, went into executive session and at 4:50 adjourned until today.

In the House.

The house spent practically the whole day on claims bills coming over from last week. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, fought them all, but succeeded in defeating only three bills. After the claims measures were disposed of general debate on the postoffice appropriation bill was resumed, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri, addressed the house on the trust question.

The house at 5:05 p. m. adjourned.

Venezuelan Question Considered.

President Roosevelt and all the members of his cabinet were in session for an hour and a half yesterday, at least two subjects of importance occupying their attention. It is known that the Venezuelan question was under consideration for some time, but at the conclusion of the meeting no member of the cabinet would discuss, for publication, this phase of the meeting. It can be said that this government, while deeply interested in the pending negotiations has taken yet no part in the controversy. Both the president and his cabinet are entirely hopeful of an early adjustment of the difficulty, although it is realized fully that serious obstacles remain yet to be overcome.

Again yesterday the cabinet discused the award of bids recently received for the armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. A decision was reached and at the conclusion of the meeting Secretary Moody made public the following statement:

Contracts Awarded.

"The navy department has decided upon the award of contracts for the two 14,500-ton armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. The bid of William Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, for two vessels at $4,035,000, has been accepted for one vessel, with the stipulation offered that the plans of the government shall be followed. In view of the fact that the New York Shipbuilding company, of Camden, N. J., one of the best equipped shipyards in the world, is the only large ship yard in the United States not now accustomed to naval work, and as this company was also the lowest bidder for two ships on the government's plans, the second vessel has been awarded to it at the same price of $4,035,000. The only bid received from the Pacific coast was $4,365,000, which was not within the 4 per cent increase over the lowest accepted bid allowed by law for vessels built on that coast. These awards are approved by the president, as required by law."

The resignation of Captain Hobson from the navy was considered briefly, but it is understood that no determination yet has been reached whether the resignation will be accepted or not.

Want Hobson to Remain.

The navy department is unwilling to allow Constructor Hobson to retire from the navy, even upon resignation outright and the abandonment of the privilege of going upon the retired list. The reason for the unwillingness is the pressing need of the construction corps for the services of just such young officers as Mr. Hobson, and the effort will be made to induce him to remain on active duty. The construction corps has lost the services of four able officers during the past year, and with the rapidly increasing amount of construction work the navy department feels that it must stop the drain.

Two Youngstown Banks Combine.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 4.—The consolidation of the Dollar Savings and Banking company and the Peoples Savings and Banking company under the former name was completed yesterday. The company has a capitalization of $1,000,000. The resignation of John I. Williams, Sr., as president was accepted, and A. E. Adams, formerly treasurer, elected in his place.

EAST END

PHENOMENAL GROWTH OF THE EAST END

A Thousand New Inhabitants Expected the Coming Spring And Summer.

The approach of warm weather has begun to make the residents of the East End talk of plans for the future. The phenomenal growth of the city in the past year has shown what can be accomplished, and it is expected that this year the East End will grow more rapidly than ever before. In talking over the future prospects of the First ward a prominent resident of the city said that he thought the population of the East End would be increased a thousand this coming spring and summer.

A new pottery has been projected for that part of the city and plans are now being made for the erection of a large number of new dwelling houses. Chatinville will receive many new residents in the spring from down the river, and at the present time there are barely enough houses in the city to accommodate those already here. With prospects for a new street railway to the East End and for improvements on the present line it seems that the East End will have good facilities for reaching the city.

Another question which has been agitated by a number of persons is free delivery in the East End. Those who live in the upper part of the city are compelled to walk about two miles after their mail and they think that the First ward in the city is entitled to free delivery as well as the balance of the city. This is hardly practical for some time yet, but will eventually be extended to the East End. Real estate is high, but a number of land companies are endeavoring to sell lots and are meeting with much success. It would seem that the future of the East End is very bright.

DEEP IN THE MUD

Considerable complaint is again heard about the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition. It is almost impossible for one to cross a street there. Some time ago complaint was made about the sanitary condition of that addition, but investigation showed that it resulted by the refuse from the township being washed down on the city.

Many people claim that the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition have been sadly neglected by the street committee, and beyond Pennsylvania avenue it is almost impossible for school children to go to and from school owing to the mud. The attention of the street commissioner and committee will be called to it and it is hoped that the needed repairs will be made at once.

MORE COMPLAINTS

Complaint was again made this morning about some of the drivers abusing their teams employed on the grading work of the C. & P. railroad. Mayor Davidson was asked to look after the matter and do what he could to prevent cruelty to the horses used. The complaint this morning probably was the result of a horse being driven over an embankment and falling in mud and water so that it was unable to get out.

The driver, it is claimed, was not careful, and drove the horse along the grade so near the embankment ..... went over. There is a foot or two of water there in the run and on account of the mud the horse lay there, unable to get up. Ropes were secured and with the assistance of the 40 or 50 laborers the animal was pulled out of its unpleasant situation. ..river was discharged on the spot.

Revivals in Full Blast.

Revival meetings are being held at both the Second Presbyterian and the Erie street M. E. churches in the East End. The attendance at both churches last night was good. The sermons attracted marked attention at both places, and a number of persons have resolved to unite with the church. The quartet at the M. E. church is doing great good with its singing and the afternoon meetings are also well attended. Rev. N. M. Crowe is being assisted by two pastors and these meetings will do much good. There will be special music tonight at the Presbyterian church.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. James Miles, of the East End, is seriously ill, being threatened with pneumonia.

Frank Chambers leaves today for an extended trip through North and South Carolina and other southern states. Mr. Chambers expects to be gone for a month or six weeks.

J. B. Williamson, of St. George street, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, is able to be out again and is greatly improved. He is still unable to use his right arm and his right leg is also partially affected.

G. H. Marshall, formerly of this city, but who now lives in Covington, Ky., has written his brother, F. W. Marshall, that an eight-pound daughter arrived there a few days ago. His friends here extend congratulations.

PASTOR ORDERED THE DOORS LOCKED

Canton, February 4.—Rev. E. P. Herbruck, of the Trinity Reformed church, adopted a rather novel method of raising money to cover a church debt of $400 Sunday morning. By announcing a meeting of especial importance he secured a full attendance and then proceeded with his plan to raise the money which was somewhat as follows:

A large blackboard was brought to the pulpit with spaces marked on it representing sums of money. There were 30 spaces of $5 each, 50 of $2.50, 100 of $1 and 50 of 50 cents each. Then the appeal was made and the spaces crossed off as fast as the pledges were brought forward by the ushers. When the usual time for closing the morning meeting approached the pastor smilingly requested the ushers to lock the doors and declared his determination to hold a "protracted meeting" till the money was forthcoming. In a few minutes after this sinister threat the money was all pledged.

The church is in a most flourishing condition and this will pay every dollar of indebtedness against it.

Ohio Soldiers Will Soon Receive New Arms Under the Terms of the Dick Bill.

Columbus, February 4.—(Special.)—Assistant Adjutant General H. M. Taylor has returned from Washington, whither he went to arrange to secure new equipment for the Ohio National Guard as provided for by the Dick law, recently enacted by congress. According to the interpretation of the law by the ordinance department, the Guard will only be furnished with the service rifles and accessory equipment and will not receive Gatling guns, revolvers, medical and quartermasters' supplies as was expected. It is due to a technicality that these supplies are withheld. Congress may amend the law so as to make this equipment available.

Ohio's report is in and the new arms will probably arrive at an early date.

ALL GOING OUT NOTHING COMING IN

That the "Hunting for Hawkins company had closed its brief career at East Liverpool, O., on Friday night was known to Broadway only yesterday, through the arrival of Don Harold, the character old man, and T. B. Blair, another member of the organization, says the New York Morning Telegraph.

While deploring the sudden ending of their season, neither actor alleged that any financial or personal responsibility accrued to Miss Gussie McKee formerly known as the pool room queen, who had caused the enterprise to live, breathe and have its being.

"It must be remembered," said J. W. Gillingwater, the author of the piece "that 'Hunting for Hawkins' has not ended its career. It is merely that the present company has closed its present season."

Three members of the company, T. B. Blair, Don Harold and the latter's wife, arrived in New York yesterday, which city they announced is infinitely superior to East Liverpool, O., as a permanent residence place.

"We opened at Easton, Pa., two weeks ago today," they said, "and from the first it was apparent that the public was not enthusiastic. The piece might have changed its name to that of a popular comic song. It was a case of 'All Going Out and Nothing Coming In.' After a while the monotony of this condition began to pall upon Miss McKee.

"The scenery was beautiful—in fact our route had been booked in towns where the beauties of nature were readily accessible to the citizens. But hillsides are not sufficiently entertaining as green vistas. An occasional stack of the 'long' article in the box office was needed as a variant, and there was nothing doing.

"Stephen King, who went out ahead of the company when J. W. Gilling water, who owns the piece, declined, advised us in East Liverpool, O., that we were wasting our talent, and here we are.

"As to Miss McKee, the leading woman and 'angel' of the company, it is only fair to say that she was not unreasonable. She paid all railroad fares from East Liverpool to New York, and added a slight bonus for traveling expenses. She declined however, to continue the season for art's sake alone. Our relations with Miss McKee are most friendly."

"When I conducted a pool room," said Miss McKee, "if I ever did, it was not my custom to cash any tickets except winning ones. That is a principle to which I adhere in my present capacity. My relations with my company—my late company—are most friendly."

Miss McKee will be remembered by her connection with a pool room for women, and her marriage to and subsequent divorce from the then Lieut. Martin, U. S. A.

A HISTORIC HOUSE SCENE OF A BATTLE

Dwelling Still Standing Near Industry Where a Woman Killed An Indian.

New Brighton, Pa., February 4.—John W. Carnegie, of New Brighton, who is working in the Industry oil field, has brought home several pictures, one of them being a splendid photograph of one of the oldest houses in the country, being built several years before 1800. It is now occupied by W. R. Thompson and family, and has been considerably altered and changed but in the main the old frame work, chimneys, etc., and intact.

The old stone chimney and the fire place are large enough to easily permit a man to pass down and out of them. Early in the history of the house, while Mr. Thompson's great, great grandmother was alone in the house an Indian band attempted to gain entrance but the old lady barricaded the doors and windows. The woman took down the old flint lock gun from the rafters, pointed the muzzle up the chimney and fired. A dead Indian fell down into the room. The band then gave up the attack.

The farm is in the oil territory and operators will begin drilling on the place shortly.

EAST END

PHENOMENAL GROWTH OF THE EAST END

A Thousand New Inhabitants Expected the Coming Spring And Summer.

The approach of warm weather has begun to make the residents of the East End talk of plans for the future. The phenomenal growth of the city in the past year has shown what can be accomplished, and it is expected that this year the East End will grow more rapidly than ever before. In talking over the future prospects of the First ward a prominent resident of the city said that he thought the population of the East End would be increased a thousand this coming spring and summer.

A new pottery has been projected for that part of the city and plans are now being made for the erection of a large number of new dwelling houses. Chatfinville will receive many new residents in the spring from down the river, and at the present time there are barely enough houses in the city to accommodate those already here. With prospects for a new street railway to the East End and for improvements on the present line it seems that the East End will have good facilities for reaching the city.

Another question which has been agitated by a number of persons is free delivery in the East End. Those who live in the upper part of the city are compelled to walk about two miles after their mail and they think that the First ward in the city is entitled to free delivery as well as the balance of the city. This is hardly practical for some time yet, but will eventually be extended to the East End. Real estate is high, but a number of land companies are endeavoring to sell lots and are meeting with much success. It would seem that the future of the East End is very bright.

DEEP IN THE MUD

Considerable complaint is again heard about the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition. It is almost impossible for one to cross a street there. Some time ago complaint was made about the sanitary condition of that addition, but investigation showed that it resulted by the refuse from the township being washed down on the city.

Many people claim that the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition have been sadly neglected by the street committee, and beyond Pennsylvania avenue it is almost impossible for school children to go to and from school owing to the mud. The attention of the street commissioner and committee will be called to it and it is hoped that the needed repairs will be made at once.

MORE COMPLAINTS

Complaint was again made this morning about some of the drivers abusing their teams employed on the grading work of the C. & P. railroad. Mayor Davidson was asked to laak after the matter and do what he could to prevent cruelty to the horses used. The complaint this morning probably was the result of a horse being driven over an embankment and falling in mud and water so that it was unable to get out.

The driver, it is claimed, was not careful, and drove the horse along the grade so near the embankment ..... went over. There is a foot or two of water there in the run and on account of the mud the horse lay there, unable to get up. Ropes were secured and with the assistance of the 40 or 50 laborers the animal was pulled out of its unpleasant situation. The driver was discharged on the spot.

Revivals in Full Blast.

Revival meetings are being held at both the Second Presbyterian and the Erie street M. E. churches in the East End. The attendance at both churches last night was good. The sermons attracted marked attention at both places, and a number of persons have resolved to unite with the church. The quartet at the M. E. church is doing great good with its singing and the afternoon meetings are also well attended. Rev. N. M. Crowe is being assisted by two pastors and these meetings will do much good. There will be special music tonight at the Presbyterian church.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Vance White, of Railroad street, is seriously ill with scarlet fever.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. James Miles, of the East End, is seriously ill, being threatened with pneumonia.

Frank Chambers leaves today for an extended trip through North and South Carolina and other southern states. Mr. Chambers expects to be gone for a month or six weeks.

J. B. Williamson, of St. George street, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, is able to be out again and is greatly improved. He is still unable to use his right arm and his right leg is also partially affected.

G. H. Marshall, formerly of this city, but who now lives in Covington, Ky., has written his brother, F. W. Marshall, that an eight-pound daughter arrived there a few days ago. His friends here extend congratulations.

PASTOR ORDERED THE DOORS LOCKED

Canton, February 4.—Rev. E. P. Herbruck, of the Trinity Reformed church, adopted a rather novel method of raising money to cover a church debt of $400 Sunday morning. By announcing a meeting of especial importance he secured a full attendance and then proceeded with his plan to raise the money which was somewhat as follows:

A large blackboard was brought to the pulpit with spaces marked on it representing sums of money. There were 30 spaces of $5 each, 50 of $2.50, 100 of $1 and 50 of 50 cents each. Then the appeal was made and the spaces crossed off as fast as the pledges were brought forward by the ushers. When the usual time for closing the morning meeting approached the pastor smilingly requested the ushers to lock the doors and declared his determination to hold a "protracted meeting" till the money was forthcoming. In a few minutes after this sinister threat the money was all pledged.

The church is in a most flourishing condition and this will pay every dollar of indebtedness against it.

Ohio Soldiers Will Soon Receive New Arms Under the Terms of the Dick Bill.

Columbus, February 4.—(Special.)—Assistant Adjutant General H. M. Taylor has returned from Washington, whither he went to arrange to secure new equipment for the Ohio National Guard as provided for by the Dick law, recently enacted by congress. According to the interpretation of the law by the ordinance department, the Guard will only be furnished with the service rifles and accessory equipment and will not receive Gatling guns, revolvers, medical and quartermasters' supplies as was expected. It is due to a technicality that these supplies are withheld. Congress may amend the law so as to make this equipment available.

Ohio's report is in and the new arms will probably arrive at an early date.

A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly." This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CONDITION OF AFFAIRS IN HUNTING FOR HAWKINS CO.

That the "Hunting for Hawkins" company had closed its brief career at East Liverpool, O., on Friday night was known to Broadway only yesterday, through the arrival of Don Harold, the character old man, and T. B. Blair, another member of the organization, says the New York Morning Telegraph.

While deploring the sudden ending of their season, neither actor alleged that any financial or personal responsibility accrued to Miss Gussie McKee formerly known as the pool room queen, who had caused the enterprise to live, breathe and have its being.

"It must be remembered," said J. W. Gillingwater, the author of the piece "that 'Hunting for Hawkins' has not ended its career. It is merely that the present company has closed its present season."

Three members of the company, T. B. Blair, Don Harold and the latter's wife, arrived in New York yesterday which city they announced is infinitely superior to East Liverpool, O., as a permanent residence place.

"We opened at Easton, Pa., two weeks ago today," they said, "and from the first it was apparent that the public was not enthusiastic. The piece might have changed its name to that of a popular comic song. It was a case of 'All Going Out and Nothing Coming In.' After a while the monotony of this condition began to pall upon Miss McKee.

"The scenery was beautiful—in fact our route had been booked in towns where the beauties of nature were readily accessible to the citizens. But hillsides are not sufficiently entertaining as green vistas. An occasional stack of the 'long' article in the box office was needed as a variant, and there was nothing doing.

"Stephen King, who went out ahead of the company when J. W. Gillingwater, who owns the piece, declined, advised us in East Liverpool, O., that we were wasting our talent, and here we are.

"As to Miss McKee, the leading woman and 'angel' of the company, it is only fair to say that she was not unreasonable. She paid all railroad fares from East Liverpool to New York, and added a slight bonus for traveling expenses. She declined, however, to continue the season for art's sake alone. Our relations with Miss McKee are most friendly."

"When I conducted a pool room," said Miss McKee, "if I ever did, it was not my custom to cash any tickets except winning ones. That is a principle to which I adhere in my present capacity. My relations with my company—my late company—are most friendly."

Miss McKee will be remembered by her connection with a pool room for women, and her marriage to and subsequent divorce from the then Lieut. Martin, U. S. A.

A HISTORIC HOUSE SCENE OF A BATTLE

New Brighton, Pa., February 4.—John W. Carnegie, of New Brighton, who is working in the Industry oil field, has brought home several pictures, one of them being a splendid photograph of one of the oldest houses in the country, being built several years before 1800. It is now occupied by W. R. Thompson and family, and has been considerably altered and changed but in the main the old frame work, chimneys, etc., and intact.

The old stone chimney and the fire place are large enough to easily permit a man to pass down and out of them. Early in the history of the house, while Mr. Thompson's great, great grandmother was alone in the house an Indian band attempted to gain entrance but the old lady barricaded the doors and windows. The woman took down the old flint lock gun from the rafters, pointed the muzzle up the chimney and fired. A dead Indian fell down into the room. The band then gave up the attack.

The farm is in the oil territory and operators will begin drilling on the place shortly.

COLONEL L. I. LIVINGSTON.

Colonel L. I. Livingston, Member of the Industrial Commission and the leading Democratic member of the Committee on Appropriations in the House of Representatives, whose home is at Atlanta, Ga., writes:

"I take pleasure in joining with General Wheeler, Congressman Brewer and others in recommending Peruna as an excellent tonic and a catarrh cure."—Col. L. I. Livingston.

Catarrh Cured.

All phases of catarrh, acute or chronic, are promptly and permanently cured. It is through its operation upon the nervous system that Peruna has attained such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable remedy for all phases of catarrh wherever located.

Mr. Jas. O. Morin, 1179 Ontario street, Montreal, Canada, writes:

"Peruna is certainly a great catarrh remedy. It cured me of catarrh of the head and I gladly indorse it. Canadians are peculiarly afflicted with this disease and for years the doctors have tried to overcome it with elixirs, powders and pills, but Peruna has solved the question and since the medicine has been established here hundreds of people have been cured of catarrh."—Jas. She paid all railroad fares from East Liverpool to New York, and added a slight bonus for traveling expenses. She declined however, to continue the season for art's sake alone. Our relations with Miss McKee are most friendly."

"When I conducted a pool room," said Miss McKee, "if I ever did, it was not my custom to cash any tickets except winning ones. That is a principle to which I adhere in my present capacity. My relations with my company—my late company—are most friendly."

Miss McKee will be remembered by her connection with a pool room for women, and her marriage to and subsequent divorce from the then Lieut. Martin, U. S. A.

A HISTORIC HOUSE SCENE OF A BATTLE

New Brighton, Pa., February 4.—John W. Carnegie, of New Brighton, who is working in the Industry oil field, has brought home several pictures, one of them being a splendid photograph of one of the oldest houses in the country, being built several years before 1800. It is now occupied by W. R. Thompson and family, and has been considerably altered and changed but in the main the old frame work, chimneys, etc., and intact.

The old stone chimney and the fire place are large enough to easily permit a man to pass down and out of them. Early in the history of the house, while Mr. Thompson's great, great grandmother was alone in the house an Indian band attempted to gain entrance but the old lady barricaded the doors and windows. The woman took down the old flint lock gun from the rafters, pointed the muzzle up the chimney and fired. A dead Indian fell down into the room. The band then gave up the attack.

The farm is in the oil territory and operators will begin drilling on the place shortly.

F. F. EDWARDS, PROPRIETOR OF THE HOTEL EDWARDS OF EAST LIVERPOOL, O., RECOMMENDS

LIFE PLANT

FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE

—READ WHAT HE SAYS—

East Liverpool, Ohio, Nov. 19th, 1902.

The Life Plant Co.,
Canton, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—I have used nearly two bottles of LIFE PLANT and must say it is a fine medicine for the kidneys. It is the best medicine I have ever taken and I recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney diseases.

F. F. EDWARDS, 136 Third St

Kidney diseases are very common and very dangerous. They cause more deaths than any other affliction, and yet they can be cured, quickly and easily by taking LIFE PLANT. An improper treatment is worse than none. It excites the kidneys to unusual action for a time, causing a seeming benefit, but the result is increased weakness.

LIFE PLANT leaves you permanently cured or your money is refunded. Whatever the stage of your trouble, your druggist will warrant that LIFE PLANT will succeed with you.

The fearful fatality caused by kidney diseases is the result of neglect and wrong treatment. Commence now by using the only guaranteed treatment, LIFE PLANT. It's a wonder.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1903.

The report of the hospital association shows that the earnest efforts put forth by the energetic ladies at the head of the movement have resulted well. There has also been a material addition to the funds by donations. But the finances are not what they should be. In a wealthy city like this; where the need of a hospital is universally acknowledged, it ought not to be necessary to resort to rummage sales and garden parties to raise money with which to build and equip a hospital. The cash donations already generously bestowed should and must be added to or it will be a long time before there is enough money to build and open the hospital. If every citizen would help according to his means the funds would soon be swelled to ample proportions. There are very few people in East Liverpool who cannot afford to donate something to an institution that will relieve suffering, house the homeless sick and in manifold ways prove a blessing and benefit to the city. The city now enjoys a degree of prosperity equaled by few communities. Now is the time to give, and to give liberally, if a public enterprise that means so much is to be successful. We cannot expect to have a hospital without paying for it. A good beginning has been made, but a beginning is not enough. United and determined effort and an exercise of the liberality which the city is capable of ought to result in seeing the hospital built, paid for, and in operation before another year has passed. And no enterprise ever undertaken in the city deserved to be prosecuted with greater zeal or to receive more substantial encouragement.

The United States is one of the greatest of sugar-consuming countries both absolutely and per capita, and in 1901-2 its consumption exceeded its production by 1,519,190 tons. But Cuba, which is a small consumer, produced 875,000 tons that year, and has the capacity for immense expansion, and Germany, which produced 2,299,408 tons of beet sugar, does not consume much more than half a million tons. The experience of the latter country is instructive also on the possibilities of beet sugar here. We had in 1890 a beet production of only 2,800 tons, and it had grown to only 30,000 tons by 1895. Now it took Germany about twenty years to get from that figure to 622,000 tons, and in the next twenty years she much more than trebled this output, her production nearly equaling the consumption of the United States.

An army official is reported as saying in explanation of the activity of the government arsenals: "The army is getting ready for the defense of the United States at all times. It is not preparing for war with anybody. We are doing the things now we should have done many years ago. The difference in the situation in this country and in Europe is that we are never prepared for war, while Great Britain and Germany and Italy are always on a war basis. We will be on a war basis, too, very soon."

There is no excuse for delaying the canal treaty, and now that the senate feoreign relations committee has reached that opinion, matters will doubtless soon be in shape for inaugurating one of the most important enterprises this government has ever undertaken.

Voters who show no interest in the coming primaries and in the result of the spring elections will have no right to complain if the wrong men get into office. Yet they will undoubtedly be the first to kick.

The statement that there are over 10,000,000 men available for military service in the United States is published more for the kaiser's information than for America's.

Honduras has just elected another president and expects to have a civil war to get the old one out of office. Politics is a queer game in the Latin American republics.

Cuyahoga county is talking about building a $7,000,000 court house. Columbiana county would be satisfied with a trifle less expensive one.

Vermont, after more than 50 years of Prohibition, has decided to substitute a local option law.

The spirit of prosperity and progress has taken a firm hold on East Liverpool churches.

Dr. Jacob Burger.

Dr. Jacob Burger, of Franklin Square, dropped dead. The cause of his death was heart failure, coupled with the infirmities of age. He had been engaged in the practice of his profession in Franklin Square for 50 years. He was frequently called to Teegarden on professional visits, and invariably would walk the entire distance both ways. During the smallpox contagion in that section he was placed under quarantine and since has gradually declined in health. He was a kindhearted man, enjoyed a lucrative practice and was held in high esteem.

Beet Sugar Factory Burned.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 4.—The beet sugar factory at Carlsbad, Eddy county, owned by Milwaukee capitalists, was burned to the ground yesterday. There was no insurance, and losses are estimated at over $200,000. Origin of the fire unknown.

Fatal Explosion.

Marietta, O., Feb. 4.—Mrs. John Newell, living near Glass Postoffice, was killed and her two young sons fatally injured by an explosion of nitroglycerin. Mrs. Newell supposed the can which contained the explosive to be empty.

CORN BREAD.

With good meal and a cook following the lessons and traditions of the old regime delicious bread may be baked of Indian meal. But we have grave doubts whether it can be baked as well in a stove as in an open fireplace; but, alas, of the latter only a few remain.

The ashcake, of course, must have ashes. They are indispensable. As well try to produce a mint julep without mint. On the other hand, "flapjacks" need only a well greased frying pan, but skill is required to turn them. That is done by pitching them out of the pan into the air and making them come down flap on the other side. The corn pone may be cooked in a stove or range.

The hoecake was originally cooked on a hoe in the fields and in the negro cabin. A skillet will do well enough for it, but must be well greased at the bottom. So, too, with respect to egg or batter bread. As for corn muffins, the appliances of a range are admirably adapted to them.

We wish some millionaire would fit up a Virginia country home in antebellum style and among other things have in it a big open fireplace, a black cook in a gingham dress, with a red bandanna on her head, and also have a half acre mint bed, an icehouse and an old time garden filled with raspberries and gooseberries, thyme, sage, currants and all the ordinary table vegetables.

When one of those old time homes and gardens and kitchens is restored and the host and hostess have entered into possession, we desire to be listed as a frequent guest, with a reserved seat in the chimney corner. Then all we shall want will be the zest, the appetite, the voraciousness we possessed when we could eat eighteen rolls and six eggs for breakfast and consume a whole watermelon between meals. But, alas, it would be easier to restore old walls and open fireplaces than to bring back the digestion and storage capacity of a youth that's gone, of a time that's past and never can return.—Richmond Dispatch.

Total expenses	$2,467 34
Cash in hand to balance	965 76

Not included in the report as given above are checks in the hands of the association aggregating $2,650 and a deed for three acres of land on the Calcutta road. The donors of the checks and the amounts are as follows:

David Boyce	$1,000 00
W. L. Thompson	1,000 00
Monroe Patterson	200 00
Robert Hall	200 00
George Hamilton	200 00
Hebrew ladies	50 00

President—Mrs. Monroe Patterson.
Secretary—Mrs. Jacob Stein.
Treasurer—Miss E. P. Hazlett.
Vice presidents—First ward, Mrs. N. A. Frederick, Mrs. Smith.
Fourth ward—Mrs. E. M. Knowles, Mrs. J. R. Warner.

A. S. Young, president; H. A. Keffer, Lawrence Thomas, Geo. Hamilton, Geo. Burford, Frank Milligan, Miss E. P. Hazlett, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mrs. Monroe Patterson, Mrs. Isaiah Colclough, Mrs. P. McKinnon, Mrs. Charles Hanley, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. John Agner, Mrs. Ralph Scraggs.

The association hopes to begin the work of constructing the buildings as soon as a favorable weather can be had. The cash balance in the treasury is sufficient to warrant a large amount of work being done, and if the same success is met in raising additional funds there is a prospect that the building can be completed before the end of the summer.

Another meeting of the associaton has been called for Tuesday, February 16, to be held in the G. A. R. hall.

Alfonso's Charmed Life.

The young king of Spain has no fear of anarchists, says the New York Press. The astrologers have told him that he bears a charmed life and will live to a good old age. One horoscope, made in 1898, foretells attempts upon his life, but says that he will receive nothing worse than a possible scar on his face from a bullet or knife. He is to marry a dark woman older than himself, very rich in money and lands, and the couple will live long and happily together. Spain is to begin to be exceedingly prosperous under his reign when he arrives at the age of twenty-two. He will be victorious in many battles.

Handkerchief Fads For Women.

The very latest "fad" in handkerchiefs for women is to have them dyed to match each gown, and no matter what the shade may be it can be exactly matched by the dyer in lawn, batiste or silk handkerchiefs, says the New York Tribune. These handkerchiefs are plain, with only the narrowest hem possible. In the matter of white handkerchiefs there is much elaboration both in lace and embroidery, the latest fancy being small handkerchiefs of white silk, finished with a tiny edge of velvet. Others have inch wide borders of plain silk.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1903.

The report of the hospital association shows that the earnest efforts put forth by the energetic ladies at the head of the movement have resulted well. There has also been a material addition to the funds by donations. But the finances are not what they should be, in a wealthy city like this; where the need of a hospital is universally acknowledged, it ought not to be necessary to resort to rummage sales and garden parties to raise money with which to build and equip a hospital. The cash donations already generously bestowed should and must be added to or it will be a long time before there is enough money to build and open the hospital. If every citizen would help according to his means the funds would soon be swelled to ample proportions. There are very few people in East Liverpool who cannot afford to donate something to an institution that will relieve suffering, house the homeless sick and in manifold ways prove a blessing and benefit to the city. The city now enjoys a degree of prosperity equaled by few communities. Now is the time to give, and to give liberally, if a public enterprise that means so much is to be successful. We cannot expect to have a hospital without paying for it. A good beginning has been made, but a beginning is not enough. United and determined effort and an exercise of the liberality which the city is capable of ought to result in seeing the hospital built, paid for, and in operation before another year has passed. And no enterprise ever undertaken in the city deserved to be prosecuted with greater zeal or to receive more substantial encouragement.

The United States is one of the greatest of sugar-consuming countries both absolutely and per capita, and in 1901-2 its consumption exceeded its production by 1,519,190 tons. But Cuba, which is a small consumer, produced 875,000 tons that year, and has the capacity for immense expansion, and Germany, which produced 2,299,468 tons of beet sugar, does not consume much more than half a million tons. The experience of the latter country is instructive also on the possibilities of beet sugar here. We had in 1890 a beet production of only 2,800 tons, and it had grown to only 30,000 tons by 1895. Now it took Germany about twenty years to get from that figure to 622,000 tons, and in the next twenty years she much more than trebled this output, her production nearly equaling the consumption of the United States.

An army official is reported as saying in explanation of the activity of the government arsenals: "The army is getting ready for the defense of the United States at all times. It is not preparing for war with anybody. We are doing the things now we should have done many years ago. The difference in the situation in this country and in Europe is that we are never prepared for war, while Great Britain and Germany and Italy are always on a war basis. We will be on a war basis, too, very soon."

There is no excuse for delaying the canal treaty, and now that the senate foreign relations committee has reached that opinion, matters will doubtless soon be in shape for inaugurating one of the most important enterprises this government has ever undertaken.

Voters who show no interest in the coming primaries and in the result of the spring elections will have no right to complain if the wrong men get into office. Yet they will undoubtedly be the first to kick.

The statement that there are over 10,000,000 men available for military service in the United States is published more for the kaiser's information than for America's.

Honduras has just elected another president and expects to have a civil war to get the old one out of office. Politics is a queer game in the Latin American republics.

Vermont, after more than 50 years of Prohibition, has decided to substitute a local option law.

Dr. Jacob Burger.

Dr. Jacob Burger, of Franklin Square, dropped dead. The cause of his death was heart failure, coupled with the infirmities of age. He had been engaged in the practice of his profession in Franklin Square for 50 years. He was frequently called to Teegarden on professional visits, and invariably would walk the entire distance both ways. During the smallpox contagion in that section he was placed under quarantine and since has gradually declined in health. He was a kindhearted man, enjoyed a lucrative practice and was held in high esteem.

Beet Sugar Factory Burned.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 4.—The beet sugar factory at Carlsbad, Eddy county, owned by Milwaukee capitalists, was burned to the ground yesterday. There was no insurance, and losses are estimated at over $200,000. Origin of the fire unknown.

Fatal Explosion.

Marietta, O., Feb. 4.—Mrs. John Newell, living near Glass Postoffice, was killed and her two young sons fatally injured by an explosion of nitroglycerin. Mrs. Newell supposed the can which contained the explosive to be empty.

Ex-Governor Long's Condition.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 4.—The following bulletin was issued at 11 o'clock last night: "Mr. Long has had a comfortable and quiet day. His mind is clearer and he has made a distinct thought slight gain."

CORN BREAD.

With good meal and a cook following the lessons and traditions of the old regime delicious bread may be baked of Indian meal. But we have grave doubts whether it can be baked as well in a stove as in an open fireplace; but, alas, of the latter only a few remain.

The ashcake, of course, must have ashes. They are indispensable. As well try to produce a mint julep without mint. On the other hand, "flapjacks" need only a well greased frying pan, but skill is required to turn them. That is done by pitching them out of the pan into the air and making them come down flap on the other side. The corn pone may be cooked in a stove or range.

The hoecake was originally cooked on a hoe in the fields and in the negro cabin. A skillet will do well enough for it, but must be well greased at the bottom. So, too, with respect to egg or batter bread. As for corn muffins, the appliances of a range are admirably adapted to them.

We wish some millionaire would fit up a Virginia country home in antebellum style and among other things have in it a big open fireplace, a black cook in a gingham dress, with a red bandanna on her head, and also have a half acre mint bed, an icehouse and an old time garden filled with raspberries and gooseberries, thyme, sage, currants and all the ordinary table vegetables.

When one of those old time homes and gardens and kitchens is restored and the host and hostess have entered into possession, we desire to be listed as a frequent guest, with a reserved seat in the chimney corner. Then all we shall want will be the zest, the appetite, the voraciousness we possessed when we could eat eighteen rolls and six eggs for breakfast and consume a whole watermelon between meals. But, alas, it would be easier to restore old walls and open fireplaces than to bring back the digestion and storage capacity of a youth that's gone, of a time that's past and never can return.—Richmond Dispatch.

Cash in hand to balance	965 76

Not included in the report as given above are checks in the hands of the association aggregating $2,650 and a deed for three acres of land on the Calcutta road. The donors of the checks and the amounts are as follows:

David Boyce	$1,000 00
W. L. Thompson	1,000 00
Monroe Patterson	200 00
Robert Hall	200 00
George Hamilton	200 00
Hebrew ladies	50 00

President—Mrs. Monroe Patterson.
Vice presidents—First ward, Mrs. N. A. Frederick, Mrs. Smith.

A. S. Young, president; H. A. Keffer, Lawrence Thomas, Geo. Hamilton, Geo. Burford, Frank Milligan, Miss E. P. Hazlett, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mrs. Monroe Patterson, Mrs. Isaiah Colclough, Mrs. P. McKinnon, Mrs. Charles Hanley, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. John Agner, Mrs. Ralph Scraggs.

The association hopes to begin the work of constructing the buildings as soon as a favorable weather can be had. The cash balance in the treasury is sufficient to warrant a large amount of work being done, and if the same success is met in raising additional funds there is a prospect that the building can be completed before the end of the summer.

Another meeting of the associaton has been called for Tuesday, February 16, to be held in the G. A. R. hall.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Ex-Sheriff A. A. Franzheim, of Wheeling, was in town yesterday.

Misses Ola and Bertha Azdell have returned from a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Azdell, at Ferndale.

Miss Margery Blythe, who has been the guest of Miss Janet M. Hill, of the East End, has returned to her home in Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Burt Allison, of Minerva street, has returned from a visit with relatives at Wheeling. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Annie Briggs, who will visit her for a couple of weeks.

Alfonso's Charmed Life.

The young king of Spain has no fear of anarchists, says the New York Press. The astrologers have told him that he bears a charmed life and will live to a good old age. One horoscope, made in 1898, foretells attempts upon his life, but says that he will receive nothing worse than a possible scar on his face from a bullet or knife. He is to marry a dark woman older than himself, very rich in money and lands, and the couple will live long and happily together. Spain is to begin to be exceedingly prosperous under his reign when he arrives at the age of twenty-two. He will be victorious in many battles.

Handkerchief Fads For Women.

The very latest "fad" in handkerchiefs for women is to have them dyed to match each gown, and no matter what the shade may be it can be exactly matched by the dyer in lawn, batiste or silk handkerchiefs, says the New York Tribune. These handkerchiefs are plain, with only the narrowest hem possible. In the matter of white handkerchiefs there is much elaboration both in lace and embroidery, the latest fancy being small handkerchiefs of white silk, finished with a tiny edge of velvet. Others have inch wide borders of plain silk.

The association hopes to begin the work of constructing the buildings as soon as a favorable weather can be had. The cash balance in the treasury is sufficient to warrant a large amount of work being done, and if the same success is met in raising additional funds there is a prospect that the building can be completed before the end of the summer.

Another meeting of the associaton has been called for Tuesday, February 16, to be held in the G. A. R. hall.

Miss Margery Blythe, who has been the guest of Miss Janet M. Hill, of the East End, has returned to her home in Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Alfonso's Charmed Life.

The young king of Spain has no fear of anarchists, says the New York Press. The astrologers have told him that he bears a charmed life and will live to a good old age. One horoscope, made in 1898, foretells attempts upon his life, but says that he will receive nothing worse than a possible scar on his face from a bullet or knife. He is to marry a dark woman older than himself, very rich in money and lands, and the couple will live long and happily together. Spain is to begin to be exceedingly prosperous under his reign when he arrives at the age of twenty-two. He will be victorious in many battles.

Handkerchief Fads For Women.

The very latest "fad" in handkerchiefs for women is to have them dyed to match each gown, and no matter what the shade may be it can be exactly matched by the dyer in lawn, batiste or silk handkerchiefs, says the New York Tribune. These handkerchiefs are plain, with only the narrowest hem possible. In the matter of white handkerchiefs there is much elaboration both in lace and embroidery, the latest fancy being small handkerchiefs of white silk, finished with a tiny edge of velvet. Others have inch wide borders of plain silk.

THE POSTOFFICE NOT TO MOVE

Terms Agreed Upon by Which It Will Remain in Its Present Location.

TEN-YEAR LEASE GIVEN

Scarcity of Candidates in Wellsville Induces Council to Increase the Salaries of Certain Officials—Effort to Secure Free Mail Delivery.

At last the necessary steps have been taken by council towards keeping the postoffice of the city in the city building. At the council meeting last evening the mayor and clerk were authorized to sign a 10-year lease with the postoffice department officials, giving the officials the room now occupied by the water works trustees. The rent for the two rooms will be $700 per annum, and the city will have to furnish the room with a full equipment, including new lock boxes. When the matter was brought to a motion, the motion was voted against by Brennan, Weaver and Smith.

When the meeting was called to order last evening, Councilmen Whitacre, Bissett and McCormick were absent. McCormick arrived, however after the meeting was half over. Vice President Brennan presided.

A petition was read, signed by the American Plate and Sheet Iron company and several of the citizens residing in the immediate neighborhood of the mill, in which the city was asked to vacate three feet of Mill alley to the American Plate & Sheet Iron company, as the company desire to make an addition to one of the buildings of the plant. Upon a motion of Shoub, which was passed, the matter would have been placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act, but this action was afterwards found by City Solicitor Boyd to be illegal. He stated that the law required that a notification be published in one of the local papers for six consecutive weeks, before final action could be taken by council.

Mr. Shoub moved that the petition be accepted by council and that the clerk be ordered to have the notice published. The motion was passed. Manager Brookman, of the mill, at this point appeared before council and asked that he be given the moral support of council in the matter so that he could proceed with his present plans without fear of interruption. Upon a motion this was given Mr. Brookman.

A contract of the Central District & Printing Telegraph company, better known as the Bell Telephone company, was presented by the clerk. It was regarding the rent of the room in the city building. The company is to pay $240 per year, payable quarterly. The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor.

William Rail, of Liverpool street appeared before council and made known his troubles. He stated that since the grade had been changed on Liverpool street his property had been left eight inches below the grade line and he would like to have council either have his lot filled in at the city's expense or else pay him to have the work done. On a motion this matter was left in the hands of the same committee who have a similar complaint on tap on the same street, which they are to investigate.

A communication was read from Mrs. Margaret Orr, of Lisbon street. She stated that a sewer connection with her property had been ordered closed up by the board of health. She asked council to either have the sewer opened or a new connection put in. The matter was referred to the sewer committee.

An ordinance placing a grade on Henry avenue was read. It was placed on its first reading, not enough councilmen being present at the time to place it upon its third and final reading.

At this point Solicitor Boyd brought a matter to the attention of council, which for several days has been a topic of general conversation throughout the city. It has been noticed that but very few candidates have as yet announced themselves as running for public office and the time is drawing near when all candidates should be announced. Mr. Boyd stated to council that the reason for this was that the salary for some of these offices was not enough and he also stated that the city ought to agree to pay the premium on the bond of each official that was elected.

Acting upon the advice of the city solicitor council ordered the ordinance providing for the offices of the board of public service, in which the salary and bond were fixed, changed. The salary is changed from $250 to $400 and the bond changed from $10,000 to $20,000. The ordinance fixing the salary and bond of the city solicitor was changed, in that the salary was set at $300 instead of $200 per year. This ordinance was also placed on its third and final reading.

The ordinance establishing the office and fixing the salary of the board of public safety was also changed by council. The salary of each member was set at $100 per annum in place of $25. This ordinance was placed on its third and final reading.

A motion was passed that the clerk be instructed to correspond with Congressman R. W. Tayler, of this district, to ascertain what could be done toward securing free delivery for the city.

The mayor's report for January was read. The report of the amount collected in fines and rents was $59.75. The report was accepted by council and ordered placed on file.

The mayor stated that the cemetery trustees had been after him several times recently, asking him what could be done for them towards securing a U. S. telephone for the cemetery. The mayor said that if the free 'phones at the disposal of the city were arranged properly the city could gratify the wishes of the cemetery trustees. A motion was passed to take the U. S. 'phones out of the public schools and place in Bell 'phones instead and to use one of the U. S. 'phones for the cemetery.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a small piece of storm water sewer to extend from Fifteenth to Eighteenth streets on Clark avenue.

Samples were shown to council of street signs and house numbers by the agent of the firm, but council took no action toward having them purchased, an improvement which is greatly needed here.

A motion was made and passed that the city borrow $1,500 in anticipation of the February taxes, which will not be forthcoming until the 20th of the month, to pay the outstanding debts. All of the bills which had been approved by the finance committee, with the exception of the light bill, were ordered paid.

The ordinance providing for the sale of bonds with a view to erecting a municipal light plant was placed on its second reading. Mayor Fogo reported Sixth street to be in a very bad condition, also Spring Hill avenue and asked that something be done at once towards attending to these matters. No action was taken and council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

HALF THE ROUTE

All the New Rural Carrier Can Cover in a Day, Owing to Bad Roads.

Rural Free Delivery Carrier Edward Bunting made his second trip yesterday without incident and succeeded in getting back to the city shortly before 10 o'clock last evening. Mr. Bunting states that the roads are very bad and that he absolutely cannot continue to carry all of the route in one day as long as the road remains remains as at present.

Mr. Bunting will go over one-half of the route today and tomorrow will cover the balance. He will continue upon this plan until the roads become in a better condition. By his agreement with the government the carrier is not compelled to carry the route in cases of the present kind, where the roads are almost impassable.

Water Turned Off.

For nearly an hour yesterday the city of Wellsville was out of water supply. The water was turned off and the pumps stopped at the water works so that a new valve could be placed at the water plug on the square in the vicinity of the Silver bank. The valve at this place had been leaking for quite a while and Supt. Ewing, upon discovering it had a new valve put in at once. After the water was turned on again the water was very muddy for several hours, but finally cleared up.

RUSSELL SAGE'S VALET.

Why the Aged Financier Has an Attendant When He Goes Abroad.

Russell Sage, Nestor of Wall street, and as noted for the simplicity of his daily life as for his power in the financial world, has at the age of eighty-six appeared in the street with a valet.

Perhaps it would be better expressed to say that he permits a valet to accompany him. The new departure of Mr. Sage is not of his own initiative.

RUSSELL SAGE.

Since his recent illness Mrs. Sage has insisted that he have an attendant when he goes abroad. She wanted him to retire from business, but he insisted on keeping in harness. The valet was a compromise. Here is what Mr. Sage says:

"I just let him tag me around so as to make me appear old and feeble. I don't need him any more than a cat needs two tails. When a man gets so he can't walk alone, he'd better go to bed and stay there."

MORE RURAL ROUTES ARE DESIRED

Expectation That Some Will Be Established Ere Long Leading from Chester.

The question of free rural delivery has been agitated for some time in Hancock county and has resulted in a few rural routes being established there. It is expected that in a short time steps will be taken if possible to have a few more routes added in the county. Since the name of the post office has been changed to Chester the business of the office has increased in volume considerably and with the ever increasing population of the town it will continue to increase.

It is only a question of time till this system is established throughout every county in the country. Several routes might be established out of Chester which would greatly benefit the patrons of that office. The post office authorities of Washington will be asked to look into the matter and it is expected that an inspector will visit this section of the state within a comparatively short time. From present indications it would seem that Hancock county is destined to have but two postoffices in the future. The post office at New Cumberland will be continued and also that at Chester. The other offices in the county will doubtless be discontinued and rural routes be established.

This would benefit both offices and also secure better service to the patrons. Those who are now compelled to drive to town every day to get their mail would have it brought to them every morning at their door. Where ever rural delivery has been established it has met with the hearty indorsement of its patrons after it has been in operation for a short time. At first owing to some of the regulations of the department kicks are entered, but soon the good features so far outweigh the bad that none would be willing to go back to the old service.

The postoffice department requires that all mail boxes along a route shall be uniform in make. The kind is usually decided by the majority of those to be served. Occasionally a box is chosen which is a trifle expensive, and for that reason protests are entered. After the service has once been used it is seldom that detrimental remarks are made concerning it.

STORY OF A FAMOUS POEM

How Gray's "Elegy" Made Its First Public Appearance.

One of the most celebrated of eighteenth century poems, Gray's "Elegy," made its first public appearance in the shape of a hurriedly printed pamphlet, which was sold for sixpence. This publication was the result of a curious race for priority. Gray completed the poem some time in 1750, but had no immediate intention of publishing it. A copy, however, found its way into the hands of a Mr. Owen, the publisher and proprietor of the Magazine of Magazines, a recently established periodical, and he wrote to the poet stating his intention of printing it in his magazine, and asking his co-operation. The proposal was not at all agreeable to Gray, but, seeing that publication was inevitable, he wrote at once to Horace Walpole explaining the circumstance and asking him to get Dodsley to print it immediately, but without the author's name. Walpole handed the poem to Dodsley on Feb. 12, 1751, and on the 20th a copy was in Gray's hands at Cambridge, so that it was probably published in London on the 18th or 19th. The Magazine of Magazines for February, according to the then custom, was published toward the end of the month, and may have come out on the same day. The rival editions must have appeared, it is pretty safe to say, within a few hours of each other. The action of the magazine editor was hardly justifiable, but it laid the reading world under a debt of obligation by forcing the poem into print. Several original copies of the "Elegy" in the poet's writing are in existence. One, which was sold for $1,150 at Sotheby's in 1875, was especially interesting from the number of corrections and erasures made by the author's hand. In this manuscript Gray had substituted "Cromwell" and "Milton" for "Cæsar and "Tully" as he had originally written. His friend Mason is said to have suggested this alteration as well as the title of the poem, which Gray at first simply called "Stanzas."—Golden Penny.

He stated that the law required that a notification be published in one of the local papers for six consecutive weeks, before final action could be taken by council.

Mr. Shoub moved that the petition be accepted by council and that the clerk be ordered to have the notice published. The motion was passed. Manager Brookman, of the mill, at this point appeared before council and asked that he be given the moral support of council in the matter so that he could proceed with his present plans without fear of interruption. Upon a motion this was given Mr. Brookman.

A contract of the Central District & Printing Telegraph company, better known as the Bell Telephone company, was presented by the clerk. It was regarding the rent of the room in the city building. The company is to pay $240 per year, payable quarterly. The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor.

William Rall, of Liverpool street appeared before council and made known his troubles. He stated that since the grade had been changed on Liverpool street his property had been left eight inches below the grade line and he would like to have council either have his lot filled in at the city's expense or else pay him to have the work done. On a motion this matter was left in the hands of the same committee who have a similar complaint on tap on the same street, which they are to investigate.

A communication was read from Mrs. Margaret Orr, of Lisbon street. She stated that a sewer connection with her property had been ordered closed up by the board of health. She asked council to either have the sewer opened or a new connection put in. The matter was referred to the sewer committee.

An ordinance placing a grade on Henry avenue was read. It was placed on its first reading, not enough councilmen being present at the time to place it upon its third and final reading.

At this point Solicitor Boyd brought a matter to the attention of council, which for several days has been a topic of general conversation through out the city. It has been noticed that but very few candidates have as yet announced themselves as running for public office and the time is drawing near when all candidates should be announced. Mr. Boyd stated to council that the reason for this was that the salary for some of these offices was not enough and he also stated that the city ought to agree to pay the premium on the bond of each official that was elected.

Acting upon the advice of the city solicitor council ordered the ordinance providing for the offices of the board of public service, in which the salary and bond were fixed, changed. The salary is changed from $250 to $400 and the bond changed from $10,000 to $20,000. The ordinance fixing the salary and bond of the city solicitor was changed, in that the salary was set at $300 instead of $200 per year. This ordinance was also placed on its third and final reading.

The ordinance establishing the office and fixing the salary of the board of public safety was also changed by council. The salary of each member was set at $100 per annum in place of $25. This ordinance was placed on its third and final reading.

A motion was passed that the clerk be instructed to correspond with Congressman R. W. Tayler, of this district, to ascertain what could be done toward securing free delivery for the city.

The mayor's report for January was read. The report of the amount collected in fines and rents was $59.75. The report was accepted by council and ordered placed on file.

The mayor stated that the cemetery trustees had been after him several times recently, asking him what could be done for them towards securing a U. S. telephone for the cemetery. The mayor said that if the free 'phones at the disposal of the city were arranged properly the city could gratify the wishes of the cemetery trustees. A motion was passed to take the U. S. 'phones out of the public schools and place in Bell 'phones instead and to use one of the U. S. 'phones for the cemetery.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a small piece of storm water sewer to extend from Fifteenth to Eighteenth streets on Clark avenue.

Samples were shown to council of street signs and house numbers by the agent of the firm, but council took no action toward having them purchased, an improvement which is greatly needed here.

A motion was made and passed that the city borrow $1,500 in anticipation of the February taxes, which will not be forthcoming until the 20th of the month, to pay the outstanding debts. All of the bills which had been approved by the finance committee, with the exception of the light bill, were ordered paid.

The ordinance providing for the sale of bonds with a view to erecting a municipal light plant was placed on its second reading. Mayor Fogo reported Sixth street to be in a very bad condition, also Spring Hill avenue and asked that something be done at once towards attending to these matters. No action was taken and council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

MORE RURAL ROUTES ARE DESIRED

Expectation That Some Will Be Established Ere Long Leading from Chester.

The question of free rural delivery has been agitated for some time in Hancock county and has resulted in a few rural routes being established there. It is expected that in a short time steps will be taken if possible to have a few more routes added in the county. Since the name of the post office has been changed to Chester the business of the office has increased in volume considerably and with the ever increasing population of the town it will continue to increase.

It is only a question of time till this system is established throughout every county in the country. Several routes might be established out of Chester which would greatly benefit the patrons of that office. The post office authorities of Washington will be asked to look into the matter and it is expected that an inspector will visit this section of the state within a comparatively short time. From present indications it would seem that Hancock county is destined to have but two postoffices in the future. The postoffice at New Cumberland will be continued and also that at Chester. The other offices in the county will doubtless be discontinued and rural routes be established.

This would benefit both offices and also secure better service to the patrons. Those who are now compelled to drive to town every day to get their mail would have it brought to them every morning at their door. Where ever rural delivery has been established it has met with the hearty indorsement of its patrons after it has been in operation for a short time. At first owing to some of the regulations of the department kicks are entered, but soon the good features so far outweigh the bad that none would be willing to go back to the old service.

The postoffice department requires that all mail boxes along a route shall be uniform in make. The kind is usually decided by the majority of those to be served. Occasionally a box is chosen which is a trifle expensive, and for that reason protests are entered. After the service has once been used it is seldom that detrimental remarks are made concerning it.

STORY OF A FAMOUS POEM

How Gray's "Elegy" Made Its First Public Appearance.

One of the most celebrated of eighteenth century poems, Gray's "Elegy," made its first public appearance in the shape of a hurriedly printed pamphlet, which was sold for sixpence. This publication was the result of a curious race for priority. Gray completed the poem some time in 1750, but had no immediate intention of publishing it. A copy, however, found its way into the hands of a Mr. Owen, the publisher and proprietor of the Magazine of Magazines, a recently established periodical, and he wrote to the poet stating his intention of printing it in his magazine, and asking his co-operation. The proposal was not at all agreeable to Gray, but, seeing that publication was inevitable, he wrote at once to Horace Walpole explaining the circumstance and asking him to get Dodsley to print it immediately, but without the author's name. Walpole handed the poem to Dodsley on Feb. 12, 1751, and on the 20th a copy was in Gray's hands at Cambridge, so that it was probably published in London on the 18th or 19th. The Magazine of Magazines for February, according to the then custom, was published toward the end of the month, and may have come out on the same day. The rival editions must have appeared, it is pretty safe to say, within a few hours of each other. The action of the magazine editor was hardly justifiable, but it laid the reading world under a debt of obligation by forcing the poem into print. Several original copies of the "Elegy" in the poet's writing are in existence. One, which was sold for $1,150 at Sotheby's in 1875, was especially interesting from the number of corrections and erasures made by the author's hand. In this manuscript Gray had substituted "Cromwell" and "Milton" for "Cæsar and "Tully" as he had originally written. His friend Mason is said to have suggested this alteration as well as the title of the poem, which Gray at first simply called "Stanzas."—Golden Penny.

THE POSTOFFICE NOT TO MOVE

Terms Agreed Upon by Which It Will Remain in Its Present Location.

At last the necessary steps have been taken by council towards keeping the postoffice of the city in the city building. At the council meeting last evening the mayor and clerk were authorized to sign a 10-year lease with the postoffice department officials, giving the officials the room now occupied by the water works trustees. The rent for the two rooms will be $700 per annum, and the city will have to furnish the room with a full equipment, including new lock boxes. When the matter was brought to a motion, the motion was voted against by Brennan, Weaver and Smith.

When the meeting was called to order last evening, Councilmen Whitacre, Bissett and McCormick were absent. McCormick arrived, however after the meeting was half over. Vice President Brennan presided.

A petition was read, signed by the American Plate and Sheet Iron company and several of the citizens residing in the immediate neighborhood of the mill, in which the city was asked to vacate three feet of Mill alley to the American Plate & Sheet Iron company, as the company desire to make an addition to one of the buildings of the plant. Upon a motion of Shoub, which was passed, the matter would have been placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act, but this action was afterwards found by City Solicitor Boyd to be illegal. He stated that the law required that a notification be published in one of the local papers for six consecutive weeks, before final action could be taken by council.

Mr. Shoub moved that the petition be accepted by council and that the clerk be ordered to have the notice published. The motion was passed. Manager Brookman, of the mill, at this point appeared before council and asked that he be given the moral support of council in the matter so that he could proceed with his present plans without fear of interruption. Upon a motion this was given Mr. Brookman.

A contract of the Central District & Printing Telegraph company, better known as the Bell Telephone company, was presented by the clerk. It was regarding the rent of the room in the city building. The company is to pay $240 per year, payable quarterly. The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor.

William Rall, of Liverpool street appeared before council and made known his troubles. He stated that since the grade had been changed on Liverpool street his property had been left eight inches below the grade line and he would like to have council either have his lot filled in at the city's expense or else pay him to have the work done. On a motion this matter was left in the hands of the same committee who have a similar complaint on tap on the same street, which they are to investigate.

A communication was read from Mrs. Margaret Orr, of Lisbon street. She stated that a sewer connection with her property had been ordered closed up by the board of health. She asked council to either have the sewer opened or a new connection put in. The matter was referred to the sewer committee.

An ordinance placing a grade on Henry avenue was read. It was placed on its first reading, not enough councilmen being present at the time to place it upon its third and final reading.

At this point Solicitor Boyd brought a matter to the attention of council, which for several days has been a topic of general conversation throughout the city. Mr. Boyd stated to council that the reason for this was that the salary for some of these offices was not enough and he also stated that the city ought to agree to pay the premium on the bond of each official that was elected.

Acting upon the advice of the city solicitor council ordered the ordinance providing for the offices of the board of public service, in which the salary and bond were fixed, changed. The salary is changed from $250 to $400 and the bond changed from $10,000 to $20,000. The ordinance fixing the salary and bond of the city solicitor was changed, in that the salary was set at $300 instead of $200 per year. This ordinance was also placed on its third and final reading.

The ordinance establishing the office and fixing the salary of the board of public safety was also changed by council. The salary of each member was set at $100 per annum in place of $25. This ordinance was placed on its third and final reading.

A motion was passed that the clerk be instructed to correspond with Congressman R. W. Tayler, of this district, to ascertain what could be done toward securing free delivery for the city.

The mayor's report for January was read. The report of the amount collected in fines and rents was $59.75. The report was accepted by council and ordered placed on file.

The mayor stated that the cemetery trustees had been after him several times recently, asking him what could be done for them towards securing a U. S. telephone for the cemetery. The mayor said that if the free 'phones at the disposal of the city were arranged properly the city could gratify the wishes of the cemetery trustees. A motion was passed to take the U. S 'phones out of the public schools and place in Bell 'phones instead and to use one of the U. S. 'phones for the cemetery.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a small piece of storm water sewer to extend from Fifteenth to Eighteenth streets on Clark avenue.

Samples were shown to council of street signs and house numbers by the agent of the firm, but council took no action toward having them purchased, an improvement which is greatly needed here.

A motion was made and passed that the city borrow $1,500 in anticipation of the February taxes, which will not be forthcoming until the 20th of the month, to pay the outstanding debts. All of the bills which had been approved by the finance committee, with the exception of the light bill, were ordered paid.

The ordinance providing for the sale of bonds with a view to erecting a municipal light plant was placed on its second reading. Mayor Fogo reported Sixth street to be in a very bad condition, also Spring Hill avenue and asked that something be done at once towards attending to these matters. No action was taken and council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

STORY OF A FAMOUS POEM

How Gray's "Elegy" Made Its First Public Appearance.

One of the most celebrated of eighteenth century poems, Gray's "Elegy," made its first public appearance in the shape of a hurriedly printed pamphlet, which was sold for sixpence. This publication was the result of a curious race for priority. Gray completed the poem some time in 1750, but had no immediate intention of publishing it. A copy, however, found its way into the hands of a Mr. Owen, the publisher and proprietor of the Magazine of Magazines, a recently established periodical, and he wrote to the poet stating his intention of printing it in his magazine, and asking his co-operation. The proposal was not at all agreeable to Gray, but, seeing that publication was inevitable, he wrote at once to Horace Walpole explaining the circumstance and asking him to get Dodsley to print it immediately, but without the author's name. Walpole handed the poem to Dodsley on Feb. 12, 1751, and on the 20th a copy was in Gray's hands at Cambridge, so that it was probably published in London on the 18th or 19th. The Magazine of Magazines for February, according to the then custom, was published toward the end of the month, and may have come out on the same day. The rival editions must have appeared, it is pretty safe to say, within a few hours of each other. The action of the magazine editor was hardly justifiable, but it laid the reading world under a debt of obligation by forcing the poem into print. Several original copies of the "Elegy" in the poet's writing are in existence. One, which was sold for $1,150 at Sotheby's in 1875, was especially interesting from the number of corrections and erasures made by the author's hand. In this manuscript Gray had substituted "Cromwell" and "Milton" for "Cæsar and "Tully" as he had originally written. His friend Mason is said to have suggested this alteration as well as the title of the poem, which Gray at first simply called "Stanzas."—Golden Penny.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Because she had unknowingly ridden past the West Chester trolley car junction at Sixty-third and Market streets, Mrs. Annie Peterson, of West Chester, jumped from the rapidly moving car yesterday evening and was instantly killed. The conductor pulled the strap for the car to stop, but before the motorman had a chance to apply the brakes Mrs. Peterson had sprung from the step. The woman's head struck the asphalt pavement with great force and she died immediately.

SEEM OUTGENERALED

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Monthly meetings will be held, the next one to be at Sharon, March 2.

Civil War in Honduras.

Panama, Feb. 4.—A cablegram received yesterday morning from Honduras announces that civil war has broken out in that country. According to the dispatch General Sierra, the retiring president, having refused to give up the presidential post to the president-elect, Senor Bonilla, the latter has started a civil war. WABASH PAYS HIGH.

READY TO TALK TO COUNCIL.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

Permission to Cross Streets.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the post-office to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarrelled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says:

"I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

SEEM OUTGENERALED

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Ministers Form Association.

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 4.—The Methodist ministers of this vicinity have formed the Shenango Valley Methodist Ministers' association, which includes all Methodist ministers of the New Castle district of the Erie conference, with many others. Following are the officers: President, Rev. C. W. Foulke; vice president, Rev. E. C. McKelvy, of New Wilmington; secretary and treasurer, Rev. J. C. A. Borland, of this city. Monthly meetings will be held, the next one to be at Sharon, March 2.

Civil War in Honduras.

Panama, Feb. 4.—A cablegram received yesterday morning from Honduras announces that civil war has broken out in that country. According to the dispatch General Sierra, the retiring president, having refused to give up the presidential post to the president-elect, Senor Bonilla, the latter has started a civil war. The date of the revolutionary outbreak is not known.

Died from His Injuries.

WABASH PAYS HIGH.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

Permission to Cross Streets.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the post-office to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarrelled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

P., who was sentenced last year to six months' imprisonment because he refused to give bail for his future good behavior as the result of an alleged incendiary speech at Wexford, was released yesterday, although he had only served half of his term. Later in the day the Irish member, John Roche, was liberated from Galway jail. Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

Bubonic Plague.

Mazatlan, Feb. 4.—There were four deaths from the plague and eight new cases yesterday. There is no abatement in activity on the part of Governor Canedo and the authorities in the matter of sanitary work, cleaning drains, disinfecting and burning infected houses.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4.—A bill providing for the abolishment of capital punishment was introduced in the state assembly yesterday. Life imprisonment is proposed for murder in the first degree.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says: "I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. German Ambassador at London Recommends that Trouble Be Settled Speedily—French View Hopeful and Quick Adjustment Looked For.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

Permission to Cross Streets.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the postoffice to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarreled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says:

"I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religious and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Shodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who prefeticed upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

MENSTRUAL irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a piteous contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui. As a regulator of the menstrual periods Wine of Cardui has never been known to fail. It has seldom failed to restore perfect health, even in the most persistent and aggravated case of weakness.

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

Miss Ida M. Snyder, of No. 535 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has used Wine of Cardui and she says it helped her into a new life. Health to Miss Snyder is worth a great deal. She is an attractive young woman with intellectual attainments and she occupies the position of Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club. This position marks her as a person of intellect, culture and refinement and it speaks highly of the respect and trust her fellow women have in her. She writes:

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religions and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

II.—The Genesis of Hygiene.

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religions and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Rhodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who practiced upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

SEEM OUTGENERALED

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the postoffice to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarreled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says:

"I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Ministers Form Association.

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 4.—The Methodist ministers of this vicinity have formed the Shenango Valley Methodist Ministers' association, which includes all Methodist ministers of the New Castle district of the Erie conference, with many others. Following are the officers: President, Rev. C. W. Foulke; vice president, Rev. E. C. McKelvy, of New Wilmington; secretary and treasurer, Rev. J. C. A. Borland, of this city. Monthly meetings will be held, the next one to be at Sharon, March 2.

Civil War in Honduras.

Panama, Feb. 4.—A cablegram received yesterday morning from Honduras announces that civil war has broken out in that country. According to the dispatch General Sierra, the retiring president, having refused to give up the presidential post to the president-elect, Senor Bonilla, the latter has started a civil war. The date of the revolutionary outbreak is not known.

Died from His Injuries.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the post-office to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarrelled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

P., who was sentenced last year to six months' imprisonment because he refused to give bail for his future good behavior as the result of an alleged incendiary speech at Wexford, was released yesterday, although he had only served half of his term. Later in the day the Irish member, John Roche, was liberated from Galway jail. Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

Bubonic Plague.

Mazatlan, Feb. 4.—There were four deaths from the plague and eight new cases yesterday. There is no abatement in activity on the part of Governor Canedo and the authorities in the matter of sanitary work, cleaning drains, disinfecting and burning infected houses.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says: "I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

WABASH PAYS HIGH.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the postoffice to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarreled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says:

"I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

If the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religious and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Shodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who practiced upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation, baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

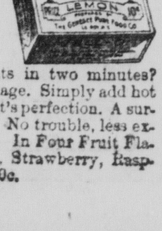

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

MENSTRUAL irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a piteous contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui. As a regulator of the menstrual periods Wine of Cardui has never been known to fail. It has seldom failed to restore perfect health, even in the most persistent and aggravated case of weakness.

Miss Ida M. Snyder, of No. 535 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has used Wine of Cardui and she says it helped her into a new life. Health to Miss Snyder is worth a great deal. She is an attractive young woman with intellectual attainments and she occupies the position of Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club. This position marks her as a person of intellect, culture and refinement and it speaks highly of the respect and trust her fellow women have in her. She writes:

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religious and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Shodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

If the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religious and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Rhodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who practiced upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation, baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Fined $2 And Costs—The trial of A. C. He paid a fine of $2 and costs.

Eye Badly Injured—Jean Jester, of this city, is in the Alliance hospital suffering from an injury to one eye which may deprive him of the sight of it. Mr. Jester was at work placing machinery in the new pottery at Salineville when his eye was struck by a piece of steel, detached from one of the machines. The injury is a very serious and painful one.

Minstrels Making Money — William Morrow, one of the backers of the Twentieth Century Minstrels, returned home last evening from Alliance, where he played the part of end man with the show the evening before. He reports that the company is in excellent condition, making money and enjoying the life hugely. The report that the company failed to get an audience Mr. Morrow stoutly denies, stating that they drew a $314 house, which is out of the ordinary.

FROM THE FOURTH WARD

James Massey, who has been a resident of East Liverpool for the past 22 years, is one of the oldest and most prominent pottery workers in the city. Mr. Massey today announced himself as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

By careful and judicious investments Mr. Massey has succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property, a greater portion of which is in the Fourth ward. For this reason and on account of being a heavy taxpayer he is vitally interested in the welfare of the city, and would be a safe man for the place. He is honest and trustworthy and in his hands the interests of the taxpayers would be safe.

little one was also taken violently sick. Both hovered between life and death for some days and on the same day died.

Heart-broken, practically homeless and her dearest earthly friends gone forever, she was almost distracted. Luckily her husband carried insurance and she was not left entirely penniless. Her parents being dead, she had but one course to pursue, locate a near relative, and it was for that purpose that she came to this city. She stated that she arrived on the afternoon train and her efforts had so far been fruitless. Her auditors offered assistance, but she declined, and leaving them standing in wonder she started down the street. Where she went they did not learn and state that from her general appearance and actions she must be demented.

Careful inquiry of men apt to know all potters in the city was made this morning, and no trace of the missing brother could be learned. His name was given as James E. Summers and his age 26.

SUIT FOR DAMAGE

The rains of the last few days have made the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Chester very bad. Council will probably be asked Friday night to relieve the condition of affairs around W. F. Conklin's residence at the corner of Carolina avenue and Second street. A sewer was put in there months ago to drain the water away from Mr. Conklin's cellar but when a few more houses were built in that vicinity the water was drained in on them They complained to council and that body ordered the sewer closed.

This caused the water to back up in Mr. Conklin's cellar and at the present time there is about four feet of water in it. Mr. Conklin says he was compelled to remain up all night to bail the water out. He will ask council for relief at the next meeting and in case it is not forthcoming will bring suit against the town for damages.

A String to It.

Bridget and Norah Murphy, fresh from Ellis island, had set out to make their "return calls" on their cousins, the McGooligans, at service in an aristocratic part of the city. Upon arriving at the house, instead of being confronted by the usual bell knob, nothing but a stingy, mean apology of a knob in the shape of a little black button met them. Bridget got hold of the button and gave it a pull, but her fingers slipped before there was any audible ring from within. Again and again she tried with the same result, until she turned the job over to "Nonie." Then the latter yanked and twisted without success, until both stood on the landing gazing helplessly at each other. Then light came unto Bridget.

"I'll tell you phwat it is," she said. "They're playin' th' joke on us fur greenhorns an' th' devils are within houldin' th' shtring!"—New York Tribune.

The blue of the sapphire is seldom pure or spread over the whole substance of the stone. Sometimes it is mixed with black, which gives it an inky appearance; sometimes with red, which, although imperceptible by daylight, yet by artificial light gives it an amethystine appearance. Two sapphires which by daylight may appear of the same hue often differ extremely in color at night. If the stone be held in an ordinary pair of forceps an inch beneath the surface of very clear water, the parts of the stone colored and uncolored will be distinctly apparent. This remark applies to all other gems.

WHERE MARCONI WORKS

WIRELESS WAVE BY THUNDERBOLT

Electric Spark Makes Report Like Lightning—Jumping Between Electrodes, It Starts Ether Pulsations That Cross the Atlantic—A Plan For Sending News to Daily Papers.

For the first time that day Marconi consented to take the newspaper correspondents into the operating room and explain the process by which the Hertzian waves are started on their way through the ether. The room is about thirty feet square. Near the door is a raised platform upon which the operator stands while sending. The key is on a shelf, and on the wall there is a switch which turns on or shuts off the power from the dynamo.

First sendings by the wireless method were done by means of a wooden lever which operated pump handle fashion. The new key devised by Marconi, while several times larger than the regulation telegraph key, is like it in many respects. It is about twelve inches in length, made of brass, has a gutta percha button and has platinum contact points. The play between the contacts was about an inch. This, of course, can be regulated, but a considerable play is necessary to prevent sticking.

The greater part of the operating room floor space is occupied by condensers. They are about waist high and form a square in the room. Crossing them from corner to corner are two pieces of sheet zinc about a foot wide and ten or twelve feet long. At the left end of the room from the entrance are the electrodes, with three square oil tanks for cooling purposes and two silvery globes about the size of a croquet ball.

There is a space of about four inches between these globes, and it is the crossing of the electricity over this air bridge from one electrode to the other that gives the "spark" and the loud reports when the operator is busy with the key. One of the electrodes, he said, was connected with the aerial wires and the other with the ground. When the electricity was switched into the condensers, it gathered force, passed to the outer wires and down to an electrode.

The opening and closing of the key caused the wires to charge and discharge and the jumping of the current across the air space from one electrode to the other gave the pulsations which the other took up and carried to the other side of the Atlantic.

Assistant Kemp turned the current on at word from Marconi, and the quick opening and closing of the key was responded to by a spark between the electrodes almost blinding in vividness. The reports were like the crackle heard when lightning strikes at no great distance. The letter "P" or the numeral "6" in American Morse suggested machine gun fire. Dashes were a kind of "zip," a running together of dots.

Before taking hold of the key Marconi stuffed his ears with cotton to deaden the sound and told the visitors that eventually operators would have a sound proof booth to work in.

The receiving instruments are in the same room. The ether waves when they arrive from Glace Bay or Poldhu are rather feeble, but Marconi's magnetic detector rejuvenates the tired vibrations and gives them through a telephone receiver or on a recording tape in clean cut dots and dashes.

Speaking of his latest and greatest project, which is nothing less than the establishment at some central point in the United States of a wireless station from which the news now sent over wires may be sent direct and simultaneously to every newspaper equipped with Marconi receiving apparatus, Mr. Marconi recently said to a New York Evening Journal reporter:

"I consider this the greatest apparatus I have yet contemplated. If it is carried out as at present planned there will be a central station at, say, St. Louis, or some other centrally situated city. To this point the foreign news gathered at many points and concentrated at London will be sent, and the news of various localities on land gathered as at present, except that the wireless stations will be used. The distribution to all the scattered points of the compass where daily newspapers are published will be done simultaneously. Every paper will receive its news at the same instant."

Another idea of Marconi's is that of equipping homes, and at fixed prearranged hours the news could be reeled off for the delectation of subscribers. It would be the wireless ticker, doing away with all mechanical or living accessories whatever, except the equipment in the central station and the receivers. Yet this is no wild dream, it appears. Marconi himself says it is one of the things under serious consideration and will probably be put to the test of experiment very soon.

New English Rifle.

The British army will soon possess an improved Lee-Enfield, large numbers of which are now being turned out. The mechanism of the new gun is much less complex than that which was used in South Africa. The velocity will be greater, and, as the barrel is shorter, the weight will be less.

Exonerated.

When the urgent call was received at the doctor's office, he was out attending another patient and consequently did not reach the house until two hours afterward. As he entered he met the undertaker coming out. "Ah!" he exclaimed, with a look of deep chagrin, "this is bad. I am, then, too late."

"Don't blame yourself," said the undertaker composedly. "It is not your fault. You were not here."—New York Herald.

Who was known to sport all night and day,

The results of which made his home so bright,
That "Sporty Bill" has changed, I vow,
He's "Will, the Happy Hubby," now.

of the "Risinger Light" he sings in praise.

Heart-broken, practically homeless and her dearest earthly friends gone forever, she was almost distracted. Luckily her husband carried insurance and she was not left entirely penniless. Her parents being dead, she had but one course to pursue, locate a near relative, and it was for that purpose that she came to this city. She stated that she arrived on the afternoon train and her efforts had so far been fruitless. Her auditors offered assistance, but she declined, and leaving them standing in wonder she started down the street. Where she went they did not learn and state that from her general appearance and actions she must be demented.

Careful inquiry of men apt to know all potters in the city was made this morning, and no trace of the missing brother could be learned. His name was given as James E. Summers and his age 26.

SUIT FOR DAMAGE

May Be the Result of Insufficient Drainage On a Chester Street.

The rains of the last few days have made the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Chester very bad. Council will probably be asked Friday night to relieve the condition of affairs around W. F. Conklin's residence at the corner of Carolina avenue and Second street. A sewer was put in there months ago to drain the water away from Mr. Conklin's cellar but when a few more houses were built in that vicinity the water was drained in on them They complained to council and that body ordered the sewer closed.

This caused the water to back up in Mr. Conklin's cellar and at the present time there is about four feet of water in it. Mr. Conklin says he was compelled to remain up all night to bail the water out. He will ask council for relief at the next meeting and in case it is not forthcoming will bring suit against the town for damages.

A String to It.

Bridget and Norah Murphy, fresh from Ellis island, had set out to make their "return calls" on their cousins, the McGoohigans, at service in an aristocratic part of the city. Upon arriving at the house, instead of being confronted by the usual bell knob, nothing but a stingy, mean apology of a knob in the shape of a little black button met them. Bridget got hold of the button and gave it a pull, but her fingers slipped before there was any audible ring from within. Again and again she tried with the same result, until she turned the job over to "Nonie." Then the latter yanked and twisted without success, until both stood on the landing gazing helplessly at each other. Then light came unto Bridget.

The blue of the sapphire is seldom pure or spread over the whole substance of the stone. Sometimes it is mixed with black, which gives it an inky appearance; sometimes with red, which, although imperceptible by daylight, yet by artificial light gives it an amethystine appearance. If the stone be held in an ordinary pair of forceps an inch beneath the surface of very clear water, the parts of the stone colored and uncolored will be distinctly apparent. WHERE MARCONI WORKS

Description of Sending Apparatus at Wellfleet, Mass.

For the first time that day Marconi consented to take the newspaper correspondents into the operating room and explain the process by which the Hertzian waves are started on their way through the ether. The room is about thirty feet square. Near the door is a raised platform upon which the operator stands while sending. The key is on a shelf, and on the wall there is a switch which turns on or shuts off the power from the dynamo.

First sendings by the wireless method were done by means of a wooden lever which operated pump handle fashion. The new key devised by Marconi, while several times larger than the regulation telegraph key, is like it in many respects. It is about twelve inches in length, made of brass, has a gutta percha button and has platinum contact points. The play between the contacts was about an inch. This, of course, can be regulated, but a considerable play is necessary to prevent sticking.

The greater part of the operating room floor space is occupied by condensers. They are about waist high and form a square in the room. Crossing them from corner to corner are two pieces of sheet zinc about a foot wide and ten or twelve feet long. At the left end of the room from the entrance are the electrodes, with three square oil tanks for cooling purposes and two silvery globes about the size of a croquet ball.

There is a space of about four inches between these globes, and it is the crossing of the electricity over this air bridge from one electrode to the other that gives the "spark" and the loud reports when the operator is busy with the key. One of the electrodes, he said, was connected with the aerial wires and the other with the ground. When the electricity was switched into the condensers, it gathered force, passed to the outer wires and down to an electrode.

The opening and closing of the key caused the wires to charge and discharge and the jumping of the current across the air space from one electrode to the other gave the pulsations which the ether took up and carried to the other side of the Atlantic.

Assistant Kemp turned the current on at word from Marconi, and the quick opening and closing of the key was responded to by a spark between the electrodes almost blinding in vividness. The reports were like the crackle heard when lightning strikes at no great distance. The letter "P" or the numeral "6" in American Morse suggested machine gun fire. Dashes were a kind of "zip," a running together of dots.

Before taking hold of the key Marconi stuffed his ears with cotton to deaden the sound and told the visitors that eventually operators would have a sound proof booth to work in.

The receiving instruments are in the same room. The ether waves when they arrive from Glace Bay or Poldhu are rather feeble, but Marconi's magnetic detector rejuvenates the tired vibrations and gives them through a telephone receiver or on a recording tape in clean cut dots and dashes.

Speaking of his latest and greatest project, which is nothing less than the establishment at some central point in the United States of a wireless station from which the news now sent over wires may be sent direct and simultaneously to every newspaper equipped with Marconi receiving apparatus, Mr. Marconi recently said to a New York Evening Journal reporter:

"I consider this the greatest apparatus I have yet contemplated. If it is carried out as at present planned there will be a central station at, say, St. Louis, or some other centrally situated city. To this point the foreign news gathered at many points and concentrated at London will be sent, and the news of various localities on land gathered as at present, except that the wireless stations will be used. The distribution to all the scattered points of the compass where daily newspapers are published will be done simultaneously. Every paper will receive its news at the same instant."

Another idea of Marconi's is that of equipping homes, and at fixed prearranged hours the news could be reeled off for the delectation of subscribers. It would be the wireless ticker, doing away with all mechanical or living accessories whatever, except the equipment in the central station and the receivers. Yet this is no wild dream, it appears. Marconi himself says it is one of the things under serious consideration and will probably be put to the test of experiment very soon.

New English Rifle.

The British army will soon possess an improved Lee-Enfield, large numbers of which are now being turned out. The mechanism of the new gun is much less complex than that which was used in South Africa. The velocity will be greater, and, as the barrel is shorter, the weight will be less.

Exonerated.

When the urgent call was received at the doctor's office, he was out attending another patient and consequently did not reach the house until two hours afterward. As he entered he met the undertaker coming out. "Ah!" he exclaimed, with a look of deep chagrin, "this is bad. I am, then, too late."

"Don't blame yourself," said the undertaker composedly. "It is not your fault. You were not here."—New York Herald.

The announcement has been made of the forthcoming wedding of John I. Hodson, of this city, and Miss Clara Wallace, of Wheeling. The happy event is to take place at the handsome new apartment house, the Virginia, the home of the bride, at 2 p. m. February 10. Rev. Mr. Littell, pastor of the First U. Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Fined $2 And Costs—The trial of A. C. Anthony, arrested Saturday evening by Officer Dawson while engaged in a mixup at a dance in the Seanor block, scheduled for this afternoon was averted by the accused person appearing before the mayor and pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. He paid a fine of $2 and costs.

Eye Badly Injured—Jean Jester, of this city, is in the Alliance hospital suffering from an injury to one eye, which may deprive him of the sight of it. Mr. Jester was at work placing machinery in the new pottery at Salineville when his eye was struck by a piece of steel, detached from one of the machines. The injury is a very serious and painful one.

Minstrels Making Money — William Morrow, one of the backers of the Twentieth Century Minstrels, returned home last evening from Alliance, where he played the part of end man with the show the evening before. He reports that the company is in excellent condition, making money and enjoying the life hugely. The report that the company failed to get an audience Mr. Morrow stoutly denies, stating that they drew a $314 house, which is out of the ordinary.

FROM THE FOURTH WARD

James Massey, who has been a resident of East Liverpool for the past 22 years, is one of the oldest and most prominent pottery workers in the city. Mr. Massey today announced himself as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

By careful and judicious investments Mr. Massey has succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property, a greater portion of which is in the Fourth ward. For this reason and on account of being a heavy taxpayer he is vitally interested in the welfare of the city, and would be a safe man for the place. He is honest and trustworthy and in his hands the interests of the taxpayers would be safe.

IN TO THE FINISH

In order to correct a report which has been in circulation for some time, I take this means of informing my friends or any others who may be interested, that I have not withdrawn from the contest for the Republican nomination for mayor of East Liverpool. When I announced myself it was at the earnest solicitation of many friends and only after very careful consideration of the advisability of the move, and I want to say that I have not changed my mind, and will be in the race to a finish. Hoping that no one will be misled by the unfounded rumor, I desire to remain yours to win,

Winston Churchill's Great Play.

The sale of seats for the production of Winston Churchill's romantic comedy drama, "The Crisis," which has been in progress for the past week, has been wonderfully large and only a few seats on the lower floor remain unsold. The production is booked for the 20th of this month, and is a benefit for the ushers of the opera house. Miss Isabel Irving, who takes the part of Virginia Carvel, will be seen here for the first time as a star. She is supported by Wilfred North, at one time Mrs. Fiske's leading man, and a strong company. It requires two 50-foot cars to transport the production and not a single piece of the house scenery will be on the stage on the evening of the play.

Bond Reduced to $1,200.

Lisbon, February 4.—(Special)—On application the bond of A. J. MacKenzie, administrator of the estate of the late William Gregory, of Wellsville, has been reduced from $10,000 to $200, as there are at present no funds in the administrator's hands.

A YAWL WAS CAUGHT IN THE PADDLE WHEELS

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT NEAR NEW CUMBERLAND

The waters of the Ohio proved to be the grave of William Krowthers Monday evening at New Cumberland, and three other men nearly met with the same fate. All were employes of the towboat Tom Rees No. 2, which was attempting to tie up in the New Cumberland harbor for the night.

The story of the accident is as follows: Knowing the treacherous current of the river below New Cumberland it was decided to tie up at the harbor there for the night and proceed in the morning. Captain Dippold ordered the boat to the shore and four men to take the yawl. The work had proceeded well until one of the main yawl lines had been stretched when the boat was drawn into a current directly toward the wheel of the Rees. This was done so quickly that none of the party had time to jump.

All four were drawn under the paddles and it was miraculous that any of them escaped with their lives. Brown was struck on the right side and arm by the wheel and rendered almost unconscious. He was rescued with great difficulty and will recover. Simonton, in trying to escape the wheel was swimming away as he thought, when he was struck in the back by one of the paddles and drawn under the big boat. He was rescued from the main deck. O'Hannon succeeded in escaping injury from the wheel by catching the paddles and giving himself a heavy push aside. The offices of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company were informed of the accident as soon as the rescues were made.

Thomas McCoy, of Indiana avenue, Chester, was bitten by a dog this morning which is supposed to have been affected with rabies. The dog is a large shepherd which belonged to Mr. McCoy, and while not particularly a pet was never considered vicious. This morning it was noticed acting strangely and ran into the house. At first it began to run around in an aimless sort of a way paying but little attention to any one. Some of the members of the family tried to stop it, but were snapped at by the animal. They suspected that it had gone mad and when it ran into the room where Mr. McCoy was he got a shot gun to kill it.

Just as he raised the gun to shoot the animal jumped at him and bit him quite severely. The dog then ran out of the room, but before it had gone away was shot. Mr. McCoy sent for a physician at once and the wound was dressed. It was impossible to tell whether the dog had hydrophobia or not, but it is thought that he had. It is known that several other dogs of that vicinity were with it only a short time before and a close watch will be kept on them. If they show any signs of rabies they will be killed.

People in the vicinity of Mr. McCoy's home are greatly agitated over the occurrence and will procure muzzles for their dogs and the children will be guarded. A dog supposed to have been mad was killed a short time ago in the vicinity of Chester, but it was not thought it had been with any other dogs.

After running down a clue which they thought would result in the arrest of the persons who entered the sample room of the East Liverpool Potteries company several weeks and stole a number of valuable jardiniers, local officers obtained a search warrant from the court of 'Squire McCarron early last evening and proceeded to the building occupied by Stella Mears as a saloon. There they made a thorough search, but were unsuccessful in locating any of the ware or in ascertaining anything that might lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The robbery was committed about January 1 and was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in a local pottery. In the sample rooms of the potteries a large stock of the finest ware turned out is to be found and the rooms are generally watched very carefully. The evening that the jardiniers were stolen the men did their work so quickly and quietly that their presence was not known until the following day.

It is the opinion of the officers that persons well acquainted with the rooms did the nefarious work, and they have several local characters under suspicion. The exact value of the goods purloined is not known, but it will not fall short of $100. The jardiniers had been made to order and were of a much higher class than those ordinarily placed on the market. They had been placed in the room only the day before, and considering the fact that no other ware was disturbed it is thought conclusive that men of the city obtained the ware.

MISSING FROM HOME SINCE LAST SATURDAY

John Sanders, of the East End, applied to central police station last night for assistance in locating his son, John, who is but 13 years of age, and who mysteriously left his home on last Saturday evening. The lad has given his parents much trouble and has often threatened to run away from home, and it is their supposition that he is now on a trip.

The lad is a dime novel reader, and derives much pleasure from occupying his time in the reading of the vile literature. Police in nearby cties will be asked to keep watch for him.

Smoky Row was the scene of considerable excitement last Monday evening and though the residents of that district have talked about it ever since the matter has never been reported to the police.

Two men were rendered unconscious by the drinking of a quantity of liquor in a saloon at the lower end of town. Their names could not be learned today, everyone approached professing ignorance. One of them after taking a drink left the saloon and started up toward the National House. Upon his arrival there he was staggering and in a moment fell prostrate to the floor. A physician was summoned who experienced much trouble in reviving his patient. He pronounced him suffering from "dope" placed in the whisky. When the man finally regained consciousness he was removed from the hotel to the home of a friend on West Market street where he remained until last evening when he departed for Parkersburg.

The second individual causing the stir was in a state delirium tremens and claimed that he had been robbed. A large amount of money and several rings, given him by sisters who are now dead, making the jewelry doubly valuable, according to his story, were stolen while he was lying in the rear of one of the most notorious joints. He applied to Attorney James McGarry for advice in recovering the articles, but before making arrangements he left the office and no more has been heard from him.

The river is rising rapidly today and is now higher than at any time during the year. The stage is about 23 feet but it is expected to reach 25 and possibly 30 on this rise. While no danger of a floor is apprehended at the present time the condition are not entirely unfavorable owing to the mild weather. A heavy general rain at this juncture would swell the stream out of its banks. If there are no more rains the rise will pass before tomorrow night.

The Keystone State is due down tonight from Pittsburg and the Ben He is due at 9 from Parkersburg.

The power of both the local street railway lines went off at 3:20 yesterday afternoon and the cars did not move again until 6:30. Hundreds of people were inconvenienced. One of the engines that drives the generators at the power house became overheated and it was necessary to shut down until repairs could be made.

A great many of the cars were well filled with passengers when the power went off. Several of the cars were caught between this city and their destination. On them were many passengers for whom the only alternative from the long wait was to wade out through the mud.

The shut down extended over the time of the supper hour when hundreds of people use the cars in reaching their homes from work. Quite a number of the employes of the river potteries live in the West End and in Wellsville and many of them took the long walk in the rain and through the mud in preference to waiting. A number of persons also walked from Wellsville to this city. The conditions were about the same on the Southside line, the muddy condition of the Chester streets, adding to the discomfort of the travelers.

EFFORTS MAKING TO END THE DISPUTE

Trenton Pressers Name Committee to Confer With Bosses On Dunted Ware.

Trenton, N. J., February 4.—(Special)—In an effort to prevent a strike, Sanitary Pressers' local No. 45, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, appointed a committee at a meeting held last night to confer with the manufacturers to settle the disputes in the several sanitary potteries, growing out of the action of their owners in charging the men for "dunted" ware.

The meeting, which was attended by nearly every sanitary presser in this city and Bordentown, lasted until after midnight. President Hughes was present and advised the men as to what course to pursue. According to the reports submitted at the meeting the amount of "dunted" ware distributed about the various potteries will aggregate nearly $1,000. The committee which will confer with the manufacturers consists of Jas. T. Cotton, Thos. Dennis, Reuben McDevitt, William Heston, and David Moore.

SUPREME COURT DROPS THE CASE OF O'CONNOR

Columbus, February 4.—(Special)—The supreme court has dismissed the case of the city of Wellsville against Patrick O'Connor, for want of prepara tion. O'Connor and Edward Bunting were arrested on an affidavit filed by Samuel Lampkin, who claimed the men had assaulted him. Mayor Dennis fined O'Connor $50 and costs, but the latter appealed to the common pleas court, which reversed the judgment. The circuit court sustained the common pleas court and the city carried the suit to the supreme court.

Mourning the irreparable loss of her husband and infant child, both of whom died on the same day during the first week of January at their home in a suburb of Cleveland, Mrs. Burt Hanson wandered the streets of the city last night until the early hours of the morning, having come to the city in search of a brother, who, the last she heard from him, was employed in a local pottery.

At 1 o'clock the unfortunate woman was discovered standing in the doorway of William Erlanger's store on Fifth street by Samuel Dunbar and a companion, who had been spending the evening in the East End and missing the last car were compelled to walk to their boarding house in Church alley. Their attention was attracted to the woman by her standing with her head bowed and giving vent to pitiful sobs. Approaching her her they asked the reason for her unhappy plight and she without hesitancy unfolded her story.

Just a little over two years ago she ment Hanson, who was a painter by trade, and after a short courtship they were married. Going to housekeeping immediately their life was one of continuous happiness. The husband made good wages, was sober, industrious and made a model helpmeet. In October last a baby came to brighten the home and then their life was still more happy. But this last chapter only lasted a short time. During the latter part of December the husband became ill with typhoid-pneumonia and while he lay on his death bed their treasured

A UNIQUE POTTERY.

In Beverly, Mass., is a pottery that is unique and which has become famous from the fact that there are made reproductions from the world's greatest originals, and some of the most valuable relics in existence have been taken there by wealthy Americans to be reproduced by a man who got his inspiration in a dream. For until one night thirty years ago, when he was awakened from a dream in which a voice called upon him to start a pottery of his own, he was a salesman for one that had its beginning in Peabody in the seventeenth century. it was not until a number of prominent people became interested in his worth that Mr. Lawrence branched out into his present line, but in 1872 he was visited by Mrs. Dennie T. Broadman, Mrs. John Mason Little, of Boston, and Mrs. Curtis, of New York, who showed him the relics that had been brought to them from abroad, desiring that they should be reproduced by him. Mr. Lawrence examined the models and succeeded so well in his work that he received immediately large and extensive orders.

His work was very much admired by the people who lived along the shore, and orders came in so rapidly that it was with difficulty they were filled. The work grew and spread until there is no part of the United States that has not through orders obtained his work.

Rare and choice bits have been sent for reproduction. One lady from New York while in Europe visited Pompeii several times, and was repeatedly driven away before she succeeded in obtaining sixty choice and rare pieces of pottery that were sent to Mr. Lawrence for reproduction. Hagar's jugs and Rebecca's wells are common among the varieties, while a head of Pan has been molded and clay cast, giving all exact representation of the original.

There is the reproduction of the first lamp known in the world, the model being furnished by Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, the authenticity of which was decided through the investigation of three professors.

Sir Henry Englefield, at the sale of Sir John Ccughill, in England, purchased a vase valued at $10,000, the ornamentation being that of Ariadne giving to Theseus the thread by which he could extricate himself from the labyrinth. This was sent to the pottery and a reproduction was made.

The graceful forms of ancient pottery have been for ages the admiration of cinnoisseurs in art, but this was the first time they were reproduced. Many imitations are on the market, but the original is identified through the fact that all of the work is done in Beverly upon the potter's wheel which was invented three hundred years B. C. Two workmen are constantly employed and their wonderful touch and skill are seen as perfect copies are transformed from the same piece of clay, changing at the notion of the visitor.

It was during a visit to the battlefield at Gettysburg that Mr. Lawrence noticed the clay that was on the field and asked to be allowed to buy some. Fifty pounds were given to him, and this was made into tiny bean pots that were sold so rapidly that hundreds of barrels have been ordered that the demand may be filled.

This pottery is during the season visited by all of the summer residents, who not only order the reproductions to be sent to their homes at the seashore, but send large orders during the winter months for gifts to their many friends.

SUCCEEDS MACAULEY.

The announcement has been made that Charles Dorff, formerly of this city, is to succeed Charles Macauley, who resigned to accept the management of the new pottery at Cameron. Mr. Dorff has many friends in this city who will be pleased to hear of his advancement and who believe that he is in every way qualified to fill the postion. He has been in the employ of Sebring potteries, principally as a jiggerman, ever since the new pottery town has had a place on the map and at present is president of Local No. 44. He has a large circle of friends in Sebring.

FORMING A LOCAL.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Danny Dougherty is another American puglist who has been told that he can make money across the water, as there are plenty of lads ready to fight him. Dougherty usually fights at 115 pounds.

Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," who has threatened to retire from the ring on divers occasions, has issued a challenge to box Jack Palmer, the English middleweight champion, for $1,000 a side.

The proposed match between Dave Sullivan and Joe Bernstein which was to have been decided at Boston, has been abandoned for the present. Sullivan is now looking for a match with any 123 pounder.

George Dixon has signed papers for a twenty-round bout with Harry Ware, of London. They are to box for $500 a side and a purse of $1,500 in London on February 9, before the National A. C. The weight is 118 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the scrap.

The proposed match between "Kid" Lavinge and Ben Jordan before the National Sporting club, of London, was abandoned because the pair could not agree to the question of weight. Lavinge wants to fight at 130 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock, while Jordan will not scale over 128 pounds.

A battle for the lightweight championship of Australia was decided recently before the National Sporting club, Sydney. The principals were Jack McGowan, of Melbourne, and Charles Frost, of Sydney. It was a rattling fight from the start and lasted fifteen rounds. McGowan being the victor. McGowan is thinking of visiting America.

Since the defeat of Eddie Connolly by Jem Clark, the latter has been much inquired after with respect to actual nationality. It is said that he is in reality an American, but in any case a man to be feared. Several boxers in London are desirous of making a match with him. Clark declares that he will talk business as soon as they post forfeits.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful safe of this preparation since first introduced in East Liverpool and the remarkable results following its use, have made Will Reed such an enthusiastic believer in the great value of Mi-o-na that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na will not make thin people fat, cure indigestion and restore health.

This is a strong guarantee, but Druggist Will Reed has seen so many of his customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons, become plump and well, solely through the use of Mi-o-na that he feels he cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, Feb. 4.—The professional element among the traders contested the apathetic condition of the stock market yesterday and developed some show of strength and activity before the close of the day. There was a very meager outside following and very little news on which to base the movement. The reactionary tendency during the morning became dominant and the professionals apparently resigned themselves to the neglected condition of the market.

The rate for call loans fell below 3 per cent during the day. This state of ease is due in large part to the determined quietude of speculation. It is manifest also that the powers in the money world have in view to build up their cash resources and to guard against the return of any such extended condition of credits as that which disquieted the country last fall. The market closed rather irregular.

Goshen, Ind., Feb. 4.—Three freight trains on the Lake Shore railroad were wrecked in a blinding snowstorm here yesterday. A westbound train crashed into the rear of another and at the same time a fast dairy train, going east on another track, caught the caboose of the wrecked train as it was thrown in its way. The wreckage was piled high, blocking both tracks. The engine crews escaped with slight injuries. The wreck took fire and the engine, caboose and three cars were burned. The Goshen fire department prevented the destruction of the entire train by checking the spread of the flames to several oil tank cars.

Robbers Captured.

Cambridge, Ill., Feb. 4.—The First National bank here was robbed of about $10,000 at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by four men, and within a few hours the robbers were captured by citizens and marched to the county jail, where they are now held pending an examination. No trace of the money has yet been discovered, but it is believed it will be found soon, as the robbers had practically no time for effective concealment of it.

Large Ship Wrecked.

London, Feb. 4.—Advices from Bay Head say that a large ship has been wrecked off Duraborg reef, that only the foremast of the vessel is standing and that her sails are tattered. From the wreckage washed ashore she is thought to be the French bark Vanstable, Captain Quimper, which sailed from Glasgow, Jan. 17, for San Francisco. The body of a boy has been found, but the fate of the rest of the vessel's crew is not known.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The senate yesterday passed without objection or discussion the Elkins bill to further regulate railroad transportation. It is one of a number of measures presented in this congress concerning corporations and has particular reference to railroads. The text of the bill, with the amendments made in committee, have been published heretofore.

The army appropriation bill, which went over Monday, at the request of Mr. Pettus, was passed. The provision establishing a general staff was eliminated. Later the independent measure, identical in its provisions with the general staff section of the army bill, was passed, after having been reconsidered to permit the incorporation of an amendment by Mr. Berry placing the chief of staff exclusively under the direction of the president. The bill now goes to conference.

At 4:10 o'clock the senate, on motion of Mr. Cullom, went into executive session and at 4:50 adjourned until today.

The house spent practically the whole day on claims bills coming over from last week. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, fought them all, but succeeded in defeating only three bills. After the claims measures were disposed of general debate on the postoffice appropriation bill was resumed, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri, addressed the house on the trust question.

President Roosevelt and all the members of his cabinet were in session for an hour and a half yesterday, at least two subjects of importance occupying their attention. It is known that the Venezuelan question was under consideration for some time, but at the conclusion of the meeting no member of the cabinet would discuss, for publication, this phase of the meeting. It can be said that this government, while deeply interested in the pending negotiations has taken yet no part in the controversy. Both the president and his cabinet are entirely hopeful of an early adjustmeat of the difficulty, although it is realized fully that serious obstacles remain yet to be overcome.

Again yesterday the cabinet discused the award of bids recently received for the armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. A decision was reached and at the conclusion of the meeting Secretary Moody made public the following statement:

"The navy department has decided upon the award of contracts for the two 14,500-ton armored cruisers, Tennessee and Washington. The bid of William Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, for two vessels at $4,035,000, has been accepted for one vessel, with the stipulation offered that the plans of the government shall be followed. In view of the fact that the New York Shipbuilding company, of Camden, N. J., one of the best equipped shipyards in the world, is the only large ship yard in the United States not now accustomed to naval work, and as this company was also the lowest bidder for two ships on the government's plans, the second vessel has been awarded to it at the same price of $4,035,000. The only bid received from the Pacific coast was $4,365,000, which was not within the 4 per cent increase over the lowest accepted bid allowed by law for vessels built on that coast. These awards are approved by the president, as required by law."

The resignation of Captain Hobson from the navy was considered briefly, but it is understood that no determination yet has been reached whether the resignation will be accepted or not.

The navy department is unwilling to allow Constructor Hobson to retire from the navy, even upon resignation outright and the abandonment of the privilege of going upon the retired list. The reason for the unwillingness is the pressing need of the construction corps for the services of just such young officers as Mr. Hobson, and the effort will be made to induce him to remain on active duty. The construction corps has lost the services of four able officers during the past year, and with the rapidly increasing amount of construction work the navy department feels that it must stop the drain.

Youngstown, O., Feb. 4.—The consolidation of the Dollar Savings and Banking company and the Peoples Savings and Banking company under the former name was completed yesterday. The company has a capitalization of $1,000,000. The resignation of John I. Williams, Sr., as president was accepted, and A. E. Adams, formerly treasurer, elected in his place.

CONGRESSMAN LIVINGSTON

Colonel L. I. Livingston, Member of the Industrial Commission and the leading Democratic member of the Committee on Appropriations in the House of Representatives, whose home is at Atlanta, Ga., writes:

Catarrh Cured.

All phases of catarrh, acute or chronic, are promptly and permanently cured. It is through its operation upon the nervous system that Peruna has attained such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable remedy for all phases of catarrh wherever located.

Mr. Jas. O. Morin, 1179 Ontario street, Montreal, Canada, writes:

"Peruna is certainly a great catarrh remedy. It cured me of catarrh of the head and I gladly indorse it. Canadians are peculiarly afflicted with this disease and for years the doctors have tried to overcome it with elixirs, powders and pills, but Peruna has solved the question and since the medicine has been established here hundreds of people have been cured of catarrh."—Jas. O. Morin.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice free.

PHENOMENAL GROWTH OF THE EAST END

The approach of warm weather has begun to make the residents of the East End talk of plans for the future. The phenomenal growth of the city in the past year has shown what can be accomplished, and it is expected that this year the East End will grow more rapidly than ever before. In talking over the future prospects of the First ward a prominent resident of the city said that he thought the population of the East End would be increased a thousand this coming spring and summer.

A new pottery has been projected for that part of the city and plans are now being made for the erection of a large number of new dwelling houses. Chatinville will receive many new residents in the spring from down the river, and at the present time there are barely enough houses in the city to accommodate those already here. With prospects for a new street railway to the East End and for improvements on the present line it seems that the East End will have good facilities for reaching the city.

Another question which has been agitated by a number of persons is free delivery in the East End. Those who live in the upper part of the city are compelled to walk about two miles after their mail and they think that the First ward in the city is entitled to free delivery as well as the balance of the city. This is hardly practical for some time yet, but will eventually be extended to the East End. Real estate is high, but a number of land companies are endeavoring to sell lots and are meeting with much success. It would seem that the future of the East End is very bright.

DEEP IN THE MUD

Considerable complaint is again heard about the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition. It is almost impossible for one to cross a street there. Some time ago complaint was made about the sanitary condition of that addition, but investigation showed that it resulted by the refuse from the township being washed down on the city.

Many people claim that the streets and sidewalks in Calhoun's addition have been sadly neglected by the street committee, and beyond Pennsylvania avenue it is almost impossible for school children to go to and from school owing to the mud. The attention of the street commissioner and committee will be called to it and it is hoped that the needed repairs will be made at once.

MORE COMPLAINTS

Complaint was again made this morning about some of the drivers abusing their teams employed on the grading work of the C. & P. railroad. Mayor Davidson was asked to laak after the matter and do what he could to prevent cruelty to the horses used. The complaint this morning probably was the result of a horse being driven over an embankment and falling in mud and water so that it was unable to get out.

The driver, it is claimed, was not careful, and drove the horse along the grade so near the embankment ..... went over. There is a foot or two of water there in the run and on account of the mud the horse lay there, unable to get up. Ropes were secured and with the assistance of the 40 or 50 laborers the animal was pulled out of its unpleasant situation. ..river was discharged on the spot.

Revival meetings are being held at both the Second Presbyterian and the Erie street M. E. churches in the East End. The attendance at both churches last night was good. The sermons attracted marked attention at both places, and a number of persons have resolved to unite with the church. The quartet at the M. E. church is doing great good with its singing and the afternoon meetings are also well attended. Rev. N. M. Crowe is being assisted by two pastors and these meetings will do much good. There will be special music tonight at the Presbyterian church.

G. H. Marshall, formerly of this city, but who now lives in Covington, Ky., has written his brother, F. W. Marshall, that an eight-pound daughter arrived there a few days ago. His friends here extend congratulations.

PASTOR ORDERED THE DOORS LOCKED

Canton, February 4.—Rev. E. P. Herbruck, of the Trinity Reformed church, adopted a rather novel method of raising money to cover a church debt of $400 Sunday morning. By announcing a meeting of especial importance he secured a full attendance and then proceeded with his plan to raise the money which was somewhat as follows:

A large blackboard was brought to the pulpit with spaces marked on it representing sums of money. There were 30 spaces of $5 each, 50 of $2.50, 100 of $1 and 50 of 50 cents each. Then the appeal was made and the spaces crossed off as fast as the pledges were brought forward by the ushers. When the usual time for closing the morning meeting approached the pastor smilingly requested the ushers to lock the doors and declared his determination to hold a "protracted meeting" till the money was forthcoming. In a few minutes after this sinister threat the money was all pledged.

Columbus, February 4.—(Special.)—Assistant Adjutant General H. M. Taylor has returned from Washington, whither he went to arrange to secure new equipment for the Ohio National Guard as provided for by the Dick law, recently enacted by congress. According to the interpretation of the law by the ordinance department, the Guard will only be furnished with the service rifles and accessory equipment and will not receive Gatling guns, revolvers, medical and quartermasters' supplies as was expected. It is due to a technicality that these supplies are withheld. Congress may amend the law so as to make this equipment available.

ALL GOING OUT NOTHING COMING IN

That the "Hunting for Hawkins" company had closed its brief career at East Liverpool, O., on Friday night was known to Broadway only yesterday, through the arrival of Don Harold, the character old man, and T. B. Blair, another member of the organization, says the New York Morning Telegraph.

While deploring the sudden ending of their season, neither actor alleged that any financial or personal responsibility accrued to Miss Gussie McKee formerly known as the pool room queen, who had caused the enterprise to live, breathe and have its being.

"It must be remembered," said J. W Gillingwater, the author of the piece, "that 'Hunting for Hawkins' has not ended its career. It is merely that the present company has closed its present season."

"We opened at Easton, Pa., two weeks ago today," they said, "and from the first it was apparent that the public was not enthusiastic. The piece might have changed its name to that of a popular comic song. It was a case of 'All Going Out and Nothing Coming In.' After a while the monotony of this condition began to pall upon Miss McKee.

"The scenery was beautiful—in fact our route had been booked in towns where the beauties of nature were readily accessible to the citizens. But hillsides are not sufficiently entertaining as green vistas. An occasional stack of the 'long' article in the box office was needed as a variant, and there was nothing doing.

Stephen King, who went out ahead of the company when J. W. Gillingwater, who owns the piece, declined, advised us in East Liverpool, O., that we were wasting our talent, and here we are.

"As to Miss McKee, the leading woman and 'angel' of the company, it is only fair to say that she was not unreasonable. She paid all railroad fares from East Liverpool to New York, and added a slight bonus for traveling expenses. She declined, however, to continue the season for art's sake alone. Our relations with Miss McKee are most friendly."

"When I conducted a pool room," said Miss McKee, "if I ever did, it was not my custom to cash any tickets except winning ones. That is a principle to which I adhere in my present capacity. My relations with my company—my late company—are most friendly."

New Brighton, Pa., February 4.—John W. Carnegie, of New Brighton, who is working in the Industry oil field, has brought home several pictures, one of them being a splendid photograph of one of the oldest houses in the country, being built several years before 1800. It is now occupied by W. R. Thompson and family, and has been considerably altered and changed but in the main the old frame work, chimneys, etc., and intact.

The old stone chimney and the fire place are large enough to easily permit a man to pass down and out of them. Early in the history of the house, while Mr. Thompson's great, great grandmother was alone in the house an Indian band attempted to gain entrance but the old lady barricaded the doors and windows. The woman took down the old flint lock gun from the rafters, pointed the muzzle up the chimney and fired. A dead Indian fell down into the room. The band then gave up the attack.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1903.

The report of the hospital association shows that the earnest efforts put forth by the energetic ladies at the head of the movement have resulted well. There has also been a material addition to the funds by donations. But the finances are not what they should be. In a wealthy city like this, where the need of a hospital is universally acknowledged, it ought not to be necessary to resort to rummage sales and garden parties to raise money with which to build and equip a hospital. The cash donations already generously bestowed should and must be added to or it will be a long time before there is enough money to build and open the hospital. If every citizen would help according to his means the funds would soon be swelled to ample proportions. There are very few people in East Liverpool who cannot afford to donate something to an institution that will relieve suffering, house the homeless sick and in manifold ways prove a blessing and benefit to the city. The city now enjoys a degree of prosperity equaled by few communities. Now is the time to give, and to give liberally, if a public enterprise that means so much is to be successful. We cannot expect to have a hospital without paying for it. A good beginning has been made, but a beginning is not enough. United and determined effort and an exercise of the liberality which the city is capable of ought to result in seeing the hospital built, paid for, and in operation before another year has passed. And no enterprise ever undertaken in the city deserved to be prosecuted with greater zeal or to receive more substantial encouragement.

The United States is one of the greatest of sugar-consuming countries both absolutely and per capita, and in 1901-2 its consumption exceeded its production by 1,519,190 tons. But Cuba, which is a small consumer, produced 875,000 tons that year, and has the capacity for immense expansion, and Germany, which produced 2,299,408 tons of beet sugar, does not consume much more than half a million tons. The experience of the latter country is instructive also on the possibilities of beet sugar here. We had in 1890 a beet production of only 2,800 tons, and it had grown to only 30,000 tons by 1895. Now it took Germany about twenty years to get from that figure to 622,000 tons, and in the next twenty years she much more than trebled this output, her production nearly equaling the consumption of the United States.

An army official is reported as saying in explanation of the activity of the government arsenals: "The army is getting ready for the defense of the United States at all times. It is not preparing for war with anybody. We are doing the things now we should have done many years ago. The difference in the situation in this country and in Europe is that we are never prepared for war, while Great Britain and Germany and Italy are always on a war basis. We will be on a war basis, too, very soon."

There is no excuse for delaying the canal treaty, and now that the senate feoreign relations committee has reached that opinion, matters will doubtless soon be in shape for inaugurating one of the most important enterprises this government has ever undertaken.

Voters who show no interest in the coming primaries and in the result of the spring elections will have no right to complain if the wrong men get into office. Yet they will undoubtedly be the first to kick.

The statement that there are over 10,000,000 men available for military service in the United States is published more for the kaiser's information than for America's.

Vermont, after more than 50 years of Prohibition, has decided to substitute a local option law.

Dr. Jacob Burger.

Dr. Jacob Burger, of Franklin Square, dropped dead. The cause of his death was heart failure, coupled with the infirmities of age. He had been engaged in the practice of his profession in Franklin Square for 50 years. He was frequently called to Teegarden on professional visits, and invariably would walk the entire distance both ways. During the smallpox contagion in that section he was placed under quarantine and since has gradually declined in health. He was a kindhearted man, enjoyed a lucrative practice and was held in high esteem.

CORN BREAD.

With good meal and a cook following the lessons and traditions of the old regime delicious bread may be baked of Indian meal. But we have grave doubts whether it can be baked as well in a stove as in an open fireplace; but, alas, of the latter only a few remain.

The ashcake, of course, must have ashes. They are indispensable. As well try to produce a mint julep without mint. On the other hand, "flapjacks" need only a well greased frying pan, but skill is required to turn them. That is done by pitching them out of the pan into the air and making them come down flap on the other side. The corn pone may be cooked in a stove or range.

The hoecake was originally cooked on a hoe in the fields and in the negro cabin. A skillet will do well enough for it, but must be well greased at the bottom. So, too, with respect to egg or batter bread. As for corn muffins, the appliances of a range are admirably adapted to them.

We wish some millionaire would fit up a Virginia country home in antebellum style and among other things have in it a big open fireplace, a black cook in a gingham dress, with a red bandanna on her head, and also have a half acre mint bed, an icehouse and an old time garden filled with raspberries and gooseberries, thyme, sage, currants and all the ordinary table vegetables.

When one of those old time homes and gardens and kitchens is restored and the host and hostess have entered into possession, we desire to be listed as a frequent guest, with a reserved seat in the chimney corner. Then all we shall want will be the zest, the appetite, the voraciousness we possessed when we could eat eighteen rolls and six eggs for breakfast and consume a whole watermelon between meals. But, alas, it would be easier to restore old walls and open fireplaces than to bring back the digestion and storage capacity of a youth that's gone, of a time that's past and never can return.—Richmond Dispatch.

W. L. Thompson	1,000 00
Monroe Patterson	200 00
Robert Hall	200 00
George Hamilton	200 00

President—Mrs. Monroe Patterson.

The association hopes to begin the work of constructing the buildings as soon as a favorable weather can be had. The cash balance in the treasury is sufficient to warrant a large amount of work being done, and if the same success is met in raising additional funds there is a prospect that the building can be completed before the end of the summer.

Another meeting of the associaton has been called for Tuesday, February 16, to be held in the G. A. R. hall.

Alfonso's Charmed Life.

The young king of Spain has no fear of anarchists, says the New York Press. The astrologers have told him that he bears a charmed life and will live to a good old age. One horoscope, made in 1808, foretells attempts upon his life, but says that he will receive nothing worse than a possible scar on his face from a bullet or knife. He is to marry a dark woman older than himself, very rich in money and lands, and the couple will live long and happily together. Spain is to begin to be exceedingly prosperous under his reign when he arrives at the age of twenty-two. He will be victorious in many battles.

Handkerchief Fads For Women.

The very latest "fad" in handkerchiefs for women is to have them dyed to match each gown, and no matter what the shade may be it can be exactly matched by the dyer in lawn, batiste or silk handkerchiefs, says the New York Tribune. These handkerchiefs are plain, with only the narrowest hem possible. In the matter of white handkerchiefs there is much elaboration both in lace and embroidery, the latest fancy being small handkerchiefs of white silk, finished with a tiny edge of velvet. Others have inch wide borders of plain silk.

WELLSVILLE

Terms Agreed Upon by Which It Will Remain in Its Present Location.

At last the necessary steps have been taken by council towards keeping the postoffice of the city in the city building. At the council meeting last evening the mayor and clerk were authorized to sign a 10-year lease with the postoffice department officials, giving the officials the room now occupied by the water works trustees. The rent for the two rooms will be $700 per annum, and the city will have to furnish the room with a full equipment, including new lock boxes. When the matter was brought to a motion, the motion was voted against by Brennan, Weaver and Smith.

When the meeting was called to order last evening, Councilmen Whitacre, Bissett and McCormick were absent. McCormick arrived, however after the meeting was half over. Vice President Brennan presided.

A petition was read, signed by the American Plate and Sheet Iron company and several of the citizens residing in the immediate neighborhood of the mill, in which the city was asked to vacate three feet of Mill alley to the American Plate & Sheet Iron company, as the company desire to make an addition to one of the buildings of the plant. Upon a motion of Shoub, which was passed, the matter would have been placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act, but this action was afterwards found by City Solicitor Boyd to be illegal. He stated that the law required that a notification be published in one of the local papers for six consecutive weeks, before final action could be taken by council.

Mr. Shoub moved that the petition be accepted by council and that the clerk be ordered to have the notice published. The motion was passed. Manager Brookman, of the mill, at this point appeared before council and asked that he be given the moral support of council in the matter so that he could proceed with his present plans without fear of interruption. Upon a motion this was given Mr. Brookman.

A contract of the Central District & Printing Telegraph company, better known as the Bell Telephone company, was presented by the clerk. It was regarding the rent of the room in the city building. The company is to pay $240 per year, payable quarterly. The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor.

William Rall, of Liverpool street appeared before council and made known his troubles. He stated that since the grade had been changed on Liverpool street his property had been left eight inches below the grade line and he would like to have council either have his lot filled in at the city's expense or else pay him to have the work done. On a motion this matter was left in the hands of the same committee who have a similar complaint on tap on the same street, which they are to investigate.

A communication was read from Mrs. Margaret Orr, of Lisbon street. She stated that a sewer connection with her property had been ordered closed up by the board of health. She asked council to either have the sewer opened or a new connection put in. The matter was referred to the sewer committee.

An ordinance placing a grade on Henry avenue was read. It was placed on its first reading, not enough councilmen being present at the time to place it upon its third and final reading.

At this point Solicitor Boyd brought a matter to the attention of council, which for several days has been a topic of general conversation throughout the city. It has been noticed that but very few candidates have as yet announced themselves as running for public office and the time is drawing near when all candidates should be announced. Mr. Boyd stated to council that the reason for this was that the salary for some of these offices was not enough and he also stated that the city ought to agree to pay the premium on the bond of each official that was elected.

Acting upon the advice of the city solicitor council ordered the ordinance providing for the offices of the board of public service, in which the salary and bond were fixed, changed. The salary is changed from $250 to $400 and the bond changed from $10,000 to $20,000. The ordinance fixing the salary and bond of the city solicitor was changed, in that the salary was set at $300 instead of $200 per year. This ordinance was also placed on its third and final reading.

The ordinance establishing the office and fixing the salary of the board of public safety was also changed by council. The salary of each member was set at $100 per annum in place of $25. This ordinance was placed on its third and final reading.

A motion was passed that the clerk be instructed to correspond with Congressman R. W. Tayler, of this district, to ascertain what could be done toward securing free delivery for the city.

The mayor's report for January was read. The report of the amount collected in fines and rents was $59.75. The report was accepted by council and ordered placed on file.

The mayor stated that the cemetery trustees had been after him several times recently, asking him what could be done for them towards securing a U. S. telephone for the cemetery. The mayor said that if the free 'phones at the disposal of the city were arranged properly the city could gratify the wishes of the cemetery trustees. A motion was passed to take the U. S. 'phones out of the public schools and place in Bell 'phones instead and to use one of the U. S. 'phones for the cemetery.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a small piece of storm water sewer to extend from Fifteenth to Eighteenth streets on Clark avenue.

A motion was made and passed that the city borrow $1,500 in anticipation of the February taxes, which will not be forthcoming until the 20th of the month, to pay the outstanding debts. All of the bills which had been approved by the finance committee, with the exception of the light bill, were ordered paid.

The ordinance providing for the sale of bonds with a view to erecting a municipal light plant was placed on its second reading. Mayor Fogo reported Sixth street to be in a very bad condition, also Spring Hill avenue and asked that something be done at once towards attending to these matters. No action was taken and council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

HALF THE ROUTE

Rural Free Delivery Carrier Edward Bunting made his second trip yesterday without incident and succeeded in getting back to the city shortly before 10 o'clock last evening. Mr. Bunting states that the roads are very bad and that he absolutely cannot continue to carry all of the route in one day as long as the road remains remains as at present.

Mr. Bunting will go over one-half of the route today and tomorrow will cover the balance. He will continue upon this plan until the roads become in a better condition. By his agreement with the government the carrier is not compelled to carry the route in cases of the present kind, where the roads are almost impassable.

For nearly an hour yesterday the city of Wellsville was out of water supply. The water was turned off and the pumps stopped at the water works so that a new valve could be placed at the water plug on the square in the vicinity of the Silver bank. The valve at this place had been leaking for quite a while and Supt. Ewing, upon discovering it had a new valve put in at once. After the water was turned on again the water was very muddy for several hours, but finally cleared up.

RUSSELL SAGE'S VALET.

Why the Aged Financier Has an Attendant When He Goes Abroad.

Russell Sage, Nestor of Wall street, and as noted for the simplicity of his daily life as for his power in the financial world, has at the age of eighty-six appeared in the street with a valet.

RUSSELL SAGE.

Since his recent illness Mrs. Sage has insisted that he have an attendant when he goes abroad. She wanted him to retire from business, but he insisted on keeping in harness. The valet was a compromise. Here is what Mr. Sage says:

"I just let him tag me around so as to make me appear old and feeble. I don't need him any more than a cat needs two tails. When a man gets so he can't walk alone, he'd better go to bed and stay there."

The question of free rural delivery has been agitated for some time in Hancock county and has resulted in a few rural routes being established there. It is expected that in a short time steps will be taken if possible to have a few more routes added in the county. Since the name of the post office has been changed to Chester the business of the office has increased in volume considerably and with the ever increasing population of the town it will continue to increase.

It is only a question of time till this system is established throughout every county in the country. Several routes might be established out of Chester which would greatly benefit the patrons of that office. The postoffice authorities of Washington will be asked to look into the matter and it is expected that an inspector will visit this section of the state within a comparatively short time. From present indications it would seem that Hancock county is destined to have but two postoffices in the future. The postoffice at New Cumberland will be continued and also that at Chester. The other offices in the county will doubtless be discontinued and rural routes be established.

This would benefit both offices and also secure better service to the patrons. Those who are now compelled to drive to town every day to get their mail would have it brought to them every morning at their door. Where ever rural delivery has been established it has met with the hearty indorsement of its patrons after it has been in operation for a short time. At first owing to some of the regulations of the department kicks are entered, but soon the good features so far outweigh the bad that none would be willing to go back to the old service.

The postoffice department requires that all mail boxes along a route shall be uniform in make. The kind is usually decided by the majority of those to be served. Occasionally a box is chosen which is a trifle expensive, and for that reason protests are entered. After the service has once been used it is seldom that detrimental remarks are made concerning it.

One of the most celebrated of eighteenth century poems, Gray's "Elegy," made its first public appearance in the shape of a hurriedly printed pamphlet, which was sold for sixpence. This publication was the result of a curious race for priority. Gray completed the poem some time in 1750, but had no immediate intention of publishing it. A copy, however, found its way into the hands of a Mr. Owen, the publisher and proprietor of the Magazine of Magazines, a recently established periodical, and he wrote to the poet stating his intention of printing it in his magazine, and asking his co-operation. The proposal was not at all agreeable to Gray, but, seeing that publication was inevitable, he wrote at once to Horace Walpole explaining the circumstance and asking him to get Dodsley to print it immediately, but without the author's name. Walpole handed the poem to Dodsley on Feb. 12, 1751, and on the 20th a copy was in Gray's hands at Cambridge, so that it was probably published in London on the 18th or 19th. The Magazine of Magazines for February, according to the then custom, was published toward the end of the month, and may have come out on the same day. The rival editions must have appeared, it is pretty safe to say, within a few hours of each other. The action of the magazine editor was hardly justifiable, but it laid the reading world under a debt of obligation by forcing the poem into print. Several original copies of the "Elegy" in the poet's writing are in existence. One, which was sold for $1,150 at Sotheby's in 1875, was especially interesting from the number of corrections and erasures made by the author's hand. In this manuscript Gray had substituted "Cromwell" and "Milton" for "Cæsar and "Tully" as he had originally written. His friend Mason is said to have suggested this alteration as well as the title of the poem, which Gray at first simply called "Stanzas."—Golden Penny.

SEEM OUTGENERALED

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

Panama, Feb. 4.—A cablegram received yesterday morning from Honduras announces that civil war has broken out in that country. According to the dispatch General Sierra, the retiring president, having refused to give up the presidential post to the president-elect, Senor Bonilla, the latter has started a civil war. The date of the revolutionary outbreak is not known.

Died from His Injuries.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the post-office to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarrelled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Dublin, Feb. 4.—William Redmond, M. P., who was sentenced last year to six months' imprisonment because he refused to give bail for his future good behavior as the result of an alleged incendiary speech at Wexford, was released yesterday, although he had only served half of his term. Later in the day the Irish member, John Roche, was liberated from Galway jail. Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

Bubonic Plague.

Mazatlan, Feb. 4.—There were four deaths from the plague and eight new cases yesterday. There is no abatement in activity on the part of Governor Canedo and the authorities in the matter of sanitary work, cleaning drains, disinfecting and burning infected houses.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says:

"I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.

Senator Fairbanks, from the committee on judiciary, yesterday reported favorably the bill providing for the expedition of anti-trust proceedings in the federal courts. It directs the circuit courts to give preference to such litigation over all other cases upon the representation of the attorney general, and also provides for the appeal of all anti-trust cases to the United States supreme court, instead of the circuit court of appeals.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' Drug Store and they took hold finely—something nothing else ever did—the pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religious and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Shodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who prafticed upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation, baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

MENSTRUAL irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a piteous contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui. As a regulator of the menstrual periods Wine of Cardui has never been known to fail. It has seldom failed to restore perfect health, even in the most persistent and aggravated case of weakness.

Miss Ida M. Snyder, of No. 535 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has used Wine of Cardui and she says it helped her into a new life. Health to Miss Snyder is worth a great deal. She is an attractive young woman with intellectual attainments and she occupies the position of Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club. This position marks her as a person of intellect, culture and refinement and it speaks highly of the respect and trust her fellow women have in her. She writes:

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

SEEM OUTGENERALED

Allies Have Two Offers, and Acceptance of Either Will Please United States.

CHANCE TO GET OUT GRACEFULLY

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Venezuelan situation last night was just this: The allied powers can accept Mr. Bowen's suggestion to refer the question of their right to preferential treatment to The Hague and lift the blockade at once. If this is not satisfactory to them, they can take advantage of an out-of-hand offer by Mr. Bowen of preferential treatment for a month—that is, that they will for 30 days be allowed to take all of the 30 per cent of the receipts at the ports of Porto Cabello and La Guaira. Acceptance by the allies of either of these suggestions will be looked upon with favor by the United States and taken as an evidence that they really desire to settle the controversy expeditiously and peaceably. The concession of one month of preferential treatment will permit them to retire with honor. It will not unnecessarily protract the alliance.

The only other door open to them in their present position is to bring forward some new counter proposition. With two fair propositions by Mr. Bowen before them any action developing a new hitch is sure to be universally condemned.

Held Conference.

Sir Michael Herbert, the British ambassador, and Baron von Sternberg conferred with Mr. Bowen yesterday. It was then that Mr. Bowen brought forward again his offer for one month of preferential treatment. In the event of the allies accepting either The Hague or the one-month plan, Mr. Bowen will promptly, upon drawing the protocol for the adjudication of their claims, make to each the small cash payment he has agreed to as reparation for certain claims which they have successfully insisted be allowed.

Baron Speck von Sternberg called on President Roosevelt yesterday. It is believed that the baron delivered to the president a personal message from his sovereign, Emperor William. While naturally nothing is forthcoming about the question under discussion, it is believed to have been the Venezuelan question.

Berlin, Feb 4.—The German ambassador at London, Count Wolff-Metternich, in a dispatch to his government referring to British public opinion on the Venezuelan question and the British cabinet's attitude in consequence thereof, says the government is conscious of lack of popular support in its association with Germany, especially of the disapproval of the middle classes.

Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne have the support of the other members of the cabinet in their steadfast determination to carry out the agreement with Germany, but the ambassador ventures the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's position is weakened through loss of public support and that the cabinet is in a mood to accept almost any way out of the Venezuelan entanglement that promises the ultimate payment of the claims.

French Views.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The advices received here from Ambassador Jusserand summarizing the status of the Venezuelan negotiations at Washington lead the officials to express more confident expectation of an adjustment of the difficulties than at any time previous.

The tendency here appears to be toward allowing the allies a month or brief period for priority collection of the customs. As it is estimated that the amount which would thus be collected will not exceed $20,000, it is considered that it will not interfere seriously with ultimate equality in the treatment of all the claimants.

It is further said here that the negotiations have developed a general disinclination to consider a reference to The Hague court of arbitration as a means of terminating the differences.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—It is reported that orders were yesterday received at the League Island navy yard from Washington for the battleship Maine to sail for Newport News not later than Thursday. No confirmation of the rumor could be secured from Captain Lewtz, of the Maine, or from the officials at the navy yard. It is stated, however, that engineers are engaged in preparing the warship for the trip. The ultimate destination of the Maine is not known.

CHURCH WORKERS' FEDERATION.

Third Annual Conference Held in New York City Yesterday—Plea for Denominations to Co-Operate.

New York, Feb. 4.—Rev. Dr. William M. Bell, general secretary of missions of the United Brethren in Christ, of Dayton, O., speaking before the National Federation of Church Workers at their third annual conference in this city yesterday, said: "There is a vast territory west where we shall presently have a tremendous struggle with Mormonism. And there is no way in which we can grapple successfully with the spirit that possesses that great district unless we federate and fight it together."

He also spoke of the good that would result if the different denominations were to co-operate for maintaining weak churches and in the establishment of new ones.

"Many churches pay their ministers less than the wages received by trolley car conductors and gripmen," he said. "It is not right for the great American commonwealth to ask a man to enter the ministry on the basis of a salary that makes poverty certain."

Rev. E. B. Sanford, general secretary, reported that state federations have been organized in New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Nebraska, and that the way has been prepared for organization in other states. Besides this, 13 local federations were organized in cities during the year.

Reports were received from the secretaries for the different states telling of the progress of the work in their districts. Dr. C. C. Albertson, of the First M. E. church, of Germantown, Pa., addressed the conference on the subject of "Associate Membership," in which he suggested a plan of interdenominational affiliation.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, executive secretary of the evangelistic committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, opened a discussion on the subject, "The Evangelistic Side of Our Work." For five years there has been a real sag in the evangelistic work of the churches, he said, but during the past year there has been a reawakening in this respect.

A dinner for members of the federation and for a number of invited guests was held at the St. Denis hotel yesterday evening. After dinner addresses were made by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, of the First Baptist church, of Philadelphia.

WABASH PAYS HIGH.

Intention to Lay Four-Track Road to Connect Diversified Interests in the City With Terminals—Negotiating for Tract for Cattle Yards.

Toledo, Feb. 4.—With the completion of the new $5,000,000 belt around the city the Gould interests controlling the Wabash, Ann Arbor and Wheeling and Lake Erie lines have purchased property through the heart of the city, with which they will develop terminals to the cost of $10,000,000. It is the intention of the Gould interests to lay a four-track road on this property, connecting their diversified interests in the city by this means with the terminals. The right of way passes within a square of the court house, high school, Central Congregational church and two other public school buildings, and is without exception the highest priced property in Toledo. The Gould agents have secretly carried on negotiations for this property and need but a few pieces to complete their right of way.

It is expected that a request will shortly be made of council for permission to cross various streets, which will without doubt result in a determined fight similar to the one in which the company is now engaged in Pittsburg. The company's agents here refuse to say whether the intention is to build a surface or elevated line through the city's heart, although they deny that an open tunnel arrangement will be used for the streets. Negotiations were opened yesterday for the purchase of 800 acres of property just outside the city limits, the object being to convert the area into cattle yards. At the same time options were secured on enough property within five blocks of the post-office to be used for depot purposes.

Deed of a Jealous Man.

New York, Feb. 4.—A man named R. Bidlich, a waiter, went to the residence of Bernhard Reinecke, president of the Illinois Cattle Feeding company, yesterday and asked for the housekeeper, a woman named Garland. When the woman came to the door Bilich shot her, the bullet entering the breast. As she turned to run the man fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the back, and she fell dying. Bidlich then drank carbolic acid and fired two shots into his head. Bidlich had been the woman's sweetheart until recently, when they quarrelled. Both Bidlich and the housekeeper were taken to a hospital, where it was said neither could recover. The woman was unconscious. Bidlich died in the hospital a few hours after being taken there.

Mr. Roche was sentenced on Sept. 30 to six months' imprisonment, with hard labor, under the crimes act, for inciting boycott of land owners.

Carboy of Nitric Acid Exploded.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—One fireman is dead and four others are said to be in a serious condition as the result of a small fire in the plant of the Schwab Stamp and Seal company, on East Water street, yesterday. While the firemen were fighting the blaze a carboy of nitric acid exploded and the inhaling of the fumes prostrated the firemen. The injured were rescued quickly and everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings. Captain White, however, died last night. The chances of the others for recovery are favorable.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE HEARING.

Witnesses Yesterday Questioned Concerning Payment by Weight and All Said It Was Only Just Way.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Much of the rebuttal testimony presented yesterday to the anthracite coal strike commission was furnished by mine workers from the upper region. In this section the miners are asking for payment by weight. The witnesses in every case were questioned concerning the advantage of such a change in the wage scale and all were unanimous in the opinion that the method was the only just one where the veins were flat. Commissioner Watkins asked C. D. Gallagher, a miner employed by the Delaware and Hudson company, if he did not think a daily wage rate would be satisfactory to the men. The witness thought so, but ventured the opinion that the miners would not work to the limit of their ability if that method obtained.

Other witnesses were called to testify concerning the alleged restrictions of the coal production, and considerable evidence was introduced regarding conditions in the coal regions during the strike. Rev. P. J. McMahon, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Minersville, said a committee of union mine workers called upon him about four weeks after the strike began and requested him to counsel his parishioners against acts which might bring the strikers and the union into disrepute. Similar advice, Father McMahon said, was offered in other churches, with the result that there was no disorder in that vicinity during the progress of the strike.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a surer sign is the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy or ropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Tioga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says: "I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

IF the thoroughly practical eye of this twentieth century could be turned in careful scrutiny upon the myths and legends of the past, the veil would be torn away, and we would see very commonplace causes for the mysteries of both religions and lay history. In fact, we are inclined to pay little attention to the mysterious tendencies of the ancients. We are inclined either to swallow their legends whole or to brush them away as pure fallacy or delusion, although there may be a foundation of fact under the embellishment of superstition with regard to the mythological characters of the early Greeks. We do not seem to appreciate that there is ample evidence of the actual existence of some of the most fanciful of mythical annals.

We have heard of the centaur Chiron, who gave to Æsculapius his knowledge of the art of healing, but none of us or few of us have looked seriously upon this half horse and half man creature. There are fragments of history, however, which lead us to believe that Chiron did exist in the flesh and that he was a prince of Thessaly about 1300 B. C. He learned all there was to be known about medicine in his day and devoted his life to traveling about from place to place in the pursuit of the profession of healing. It is said on good authority that it was on account of his constant travel on horseback that the tale as to his equine body originated.

History goes on to say that during the height of Chiron's career an illegitimate child was born in Epidaurus and placed in a field by his mother. A shepherd, finding the little one dying from starvation and exposure, carried him to Chiron, who adopted the waif and taught him the trade that he himself had followed. This deserted child was Æsculapius, the Grecian father of medicine.

We gather from the ancient literature that Æsculapius followed up the teachings of the day in regard to surgery, the treatment of wounds of battle and accidental injuries of life, but his greatest achievements were in the line of internal medicine, for while in this he did little it is to be remembered that internal diseases were regarded as the handiwork of the gods and therefore incurable. Æsculapius found, however, that bathing, exercise, massage, diet and purging cured many of these ailments, and as a consequence was credited with the power of overcoming the workings of the gods themselves. It is but natural that in support of such a belief wonderful legends should have arisen as to his skill. In fact, we are told that Æsculapius came to his death for gathering the fragments of Hippolytus and making a whole man of him, thereby calling down upon his head the wrath of Jupiter.

But, whether Æsculapius lived or not, we do know that after his death many great temples were erected in Greece in his honor, the most important being those of Coos, Gnidon and Shodos, while one especially famous was raised in his native town, Epidaurus. It was to those temples that for many years the lame and sick of Greece came for relief and restoration to bodily vigor, and it was the priests of these temples, known as the Æsclepiades, who kept the secret traditions of the great master for several centuries.

Thousands of tablets have from time to time come to light telling of the cures wrought in these institutions, and we are impressed that the treatment given was of actual good to the Greek people.

The pilgrims of the Temple of Health were received by the priests, carefully bathed and then slept before the gorgeous statue of the departed master, while during the night the Æsclepiades held weird services over them. This was continued for weeks, the patients living in the temple.

Now, are we to believe that the spirit of health descended upon the sleeping sufferers from the noble pile of ivory and gold, or shall we cast aside the whole story as one of the interesting myths with which Grecian literature teems? The physician of today is not willing to accept either solution, for by so doing a lesson would be erased from medical history which, had the stupid Greeks been able to grasp it, would have advanced the art of healing hundreds of years beyond their time. The practical eye of today can see more in the Æsculapian temples than the mysterious workings of a heathen god, and the intelligence of modern medical knowledge can make plain the reasons for the wonderful results doubtless obtained.

First we must believe that the faith of the people in the departed physician, the impressions inspired by the mysterious services and the superstition which pervaded the popular mind had the same influence in accomplishing cures that such mental impressions have today, which we so often see demonstrated in the faith cure, so called "sciences" of healing, personal magnetism and other "isms." Those diseases which were purely functional maladies and all such conditions as are produced by the nervous system certainly may have given way to the "moral suggestion" afforded in the temples.

Then we have to consider that Greece was a populous nation, and her people, while enlightened for their day, saw no relation between health and hygiene and naturally lived in conditions markedly insanitary. The sewerage was deficient, the air was polluted, as was the water, while the temples were erected upon hills and mountains where the natural drainage was good, the air pure, the water from fresh, uncontaminated springs and the climate beneficial to the sick. Besides, it was a law that no man should sleep before the statue of the god unless he had his daily bath, which was accomplished by the rubbing and massage of the attendants. The cleanliness so conducive to health, the massage so stimulating and now so much used and so highly valued in the treatment of almost all forms of illness, certainly played their part in the curing of disease.

It is further to be remembered that the patients in the temple left behind them the toils and worries of daily life and existed in this delightful environment work free and care free, devoting themselves only to the subject of getting well.

The food was the best the land afforded, and articles known to be injurious to the sick were stricken from the dietary, while laxatives were given regularly, as in the ailments of our own time. The patients who were plethoric, or full blooded, were bled, a process which, while now in some dispute, was a favorite therapeutic measure with those who prefeticed upon our fathers and grandfathers.

The surgical department given over to the healing of wounds was conducted after the plans of Æsculapius, which are not so very far from the modern art. All foreign matter was taken from the injured parts, the tissues were put as nearly as possible in their natural order, cleanliness was regarded as important, and the wound was washed regularly, while oils and bandages were used to keep out the air and dust, thus unconsciously avoiding the bacteria which we regard as the dangerous invaders of surgical wounds. The methods of years or even centuries later were not so good by far.

Now, what were the cures of the Æsculapian temples? We cannot deny the probability that they did occur? We cannot admit the wonderful power of the ghost of the father of medicine. We have before us the solution. The temples were institutions conducted crudely upon the lines of the sanitariums of today. There were rest and recreation, baths and experienced practitioners of massage; there were games, and there was absolute separation from the usual business cares and worries; there was fresh air in gardens made beautiful by natural as well as by artificial means, and there was a life that was regular with food that was excellent and carefully selected. At the same time there was the superstitious confidence in the spirit of the place, which is just as real a factor in medical practice today as it was then. This is the explanation of the cures of the Æsculapian temples.

There is every reason to believe that these were the first hospitals or sanitariums that the world has ever seen, and it is very certain that in the centuries which came nothing approaching them in system and method was ever seen. Just as in the fifteenth century the medical world turned back to the teachings of Hippocrates for improvement, so have we in this far later day turned back to the half mythical Æsculapians for enlightenment in our methods of caring for the sick.

The lessons we learned from these old temples of the days of Grecian fable suggest that there is more buried in the superstitions of the past which will be of value if we consider it with the eyes of our present enlightenment. They also teach us that the full value of many of our methods in life cannot be realized until we meet every problem with that little question which is the basis of all scientific advancement, that one word "why?" Had the early Greeks been able intelligently to answer that one word, when we consider the wonderful results of those temples, where would not the science of medicine be today? They could not answer it, and the value of their work was lost.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

MENSTRUAL irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the blood weakened, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a piteous contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui. As a regulator of the menstrual periods Wine of Cardui has never been known to fail. It has seldom failed to restore perfect health, even in the most persistent and aggravated case of weakness.

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

Miss Ida M. Snyder, of No. 535 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has used Wine of Cardui and she says it helped her into a new life. Health to Miss Snyder is worth a great deal. She is an attractive young woman with intellectual attainments and she occupies the position of Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club. This position marks her as a person of intellect, culture and refinement and it speaks highly of the respect and trust her fellow women have in her. She writes:

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

The announcement has been made of the forthcoming wedding of John I. Hodson, of this city, and Miss Clara Wallace, of Wheeling. The happy event is to take place at the handsome new apartment house, the Virginia, the home of the bride, at 2 p. m. February 10. Rev. Mr. Littell, pastor of the First U. P. church, of Wheeling, will perform the ceremony. The wedding is to be a quiet one and only the immediate relatives will be present. There will be no attendants. Immediately after the ceremony they will leave for the east on a honeymoon trip and two weeks will be spent in New York and other cities before coming to this city, where they will make their home.

Miss Wallace is a sister of Mrs. Joseph Chetwynd, of this city, and has visited here frequently. She has a host of friends and among them she is known as a charming and talented young lady. Mr. Hodson is one of the best known young men of the city, who by his splendid abilities and tireless efforts has built up a business to be proud of. Personally he is popular and his friends are numbered by the hundred. The young couple will be a welcome addition to local social circles.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

Prof. Rayman announced that George Riddle and the Listemann trio could not be in the city on next Friday evening to fulfill their engagement, but that a company equally as good would be procured to take their place.

Robinson-Fankhauser.

Rev. J. W. Gorrell, pastor of the First Christian church, performed a pretty wedding ceremony this morning at 7:30 o'clock in the parlor of the parsonage when the lives of Miss Margaret Robinson and William Fankhauser were made one. Shortly after the ceremony the couple departed for Cincinnati and other cities to spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their permanent home in this city. The groom is a contractor and a highly respected young man, while the bride is a young lady of many accomplishments.

Drake-Price.

At the parsonage of the First M. E church last evening Rev. Dr. Pratt performed the ceremony which forever united the lives and fortunes of Leonard Price and Miss Gertrude Drake. The bride and groom are well known and popular young people of this city.

Fined $2 And Costs—The trial of A. C. Anthony, arrested Saturday evening by Officer Dawson while engaged in a mixup at a dance in the Seanor block, scheduled for this afternoon was averted by the accused person appearing before the mayor and pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. He paid a fine of $2 and costs.

Eye Badly Injured—Jean Jester, of this city, is in the Alliance hospital suffering from an injury to one eye, which may deprive him of the sight of it. Mr. Jester was at work placing machinery in the new pottery at Salineville when his eye was struck by a piece of steel, detached from one of the machines. The injury is a very serious and painful one.

Minstrels Making Money — William Morrow, one of the backers of the Twentieth Century Minstrels, returned home last evening from Alliance, where he played the part of end man with the show the evening before. He reports that the company is in excellent condition, making money and enjoying the life hugely. The report that the company failed to get an audience Mr. Morrow stoutly denies, stating that they drew a $314 house, which is out of the ordinary.

FROM THE FOURTH WARD

James Massey, who has been a resident of East Liverpool for the past 22 years, is one of the oldest and most prominent pottery workers in the city. Mr. Massey today announced himself as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

By careful and judicious investments Mr. Massey has succeeded in accumulating a considerable amount of property, a greater portion of which is in the Fourth ward. For this reason and on account of being a heavy taxpayer he is vitally interested in the welfare of the city, and would be a safe man for the place. He is honest and trustworthy and in his hands the interests of the taxpayers would be safe.

IN TO THE FINISH

In order to correct a report which has been in circulation for some time, I take this means of informing my friends or any others who may be interested, that I have not withdrawn from the contest for the Republican nomination for mayor of East Liverpool. When I announced myself it was at the earnest solicitation of many friends and only after very careful consideration of the advisability of the move, and I want to say that I have not changed my mind, and will be in the race to a finish. Hoping that no one will be misled by the unfounded rumor, I desire to remain yours to win,

29-h ANDY C. ROE.

Winston Churchill's Great Play.

The sale of seats for the production of Winston Churchill's romantic comedy drama, "The Crisis," which has been in progress for the past week, has been wonderfully large and only a few seats on the lower floor remain unsold. The production is booked for the 20th of this month, and is a benefit for the ushers of the opera house. Miss Isabel Irving, who takes the part of Virginia Carvel, will be seen here for the first time as a star. She is supported by Wilfred North, at one time Mrs. Fiske's leading man, and a strong company. It requires two 50-foot cars to transport the production and not a single piece of the house scenery will be on the stage on the evening of the play.

Bond Reduced to $1,200.

Lisbon, February 4.—(Special)—On application the bond of A. J. MacKenzie, administrator of the estate of the late William Gregory, of Wellsville, has been reduced from $10,000 to $200, as there are at present no funds in the administrator's hands.

WANDERED ABOUT TOWN ALL NIGHT

little one was also taken violently sick. Both hovered between life and death for some days and on the same day died.

Heart-broken, practically homeless and her dearest earthly friends gone forever, she was almost distracted. Luckily her husband carried insurance and she was not left entirely penniless. Her parents being dead, she had but one course to pursue, locate a near relative, and it was for that purpose that she came to this city. She stated that she arrived on the afternoon train and her efforts had so far been fruitless. Her auditors offered assistance, but she declined, and leaving them standing in wonder she started down the street. Where she went they did not learn and state that from her general appearance and actions she must be demented.

Careful inquiry of men apt to know all potters in the city was made this morning, and no trace of the missing brother could be learned. His name was given as James E. Summers and his age 26.

SUIT FOR DAMAGE

The rains of the last few days have made the condition of the streets and sidewalks in Chester very bad. Council will probably be asked Friday night to relieve the condition of affairs around W. F. Conklin's residence at the corner of Carolina avenue and Second street. A sewer was put in there months ago to drain the water away from Mr. Conklin's cellar but when a few more houses were built in that vicinity the water was drained in on them They complained to council and that body ordered the sewer closed.

This caused the water to back up in Mr. Conklin's cellar and at the present time there is about four feet of water in it. Mr. Conklin says he was compelled to remain up all night to bail the water out. He will ask council for relief at the next meeting and in case it is not forthcoming will bring suit against the town for damages.

Supper a Success.

The supper given last night by the ladies of the Chester U. P. church was a great success. The attendance was large and more than $20 was cleared for the society.

A String to It.

Bridget and Norah Murphy, fresh from Ellis island, had set out to make their "return calls" on their cousins, the McGoolgans, at service in an aristocratic part of the city. Upon arriving at the house, instead of being confronted by the usual bell knob, nothing but a stingy, mean apology of a knob in the shape of a little black button met them. Bridget got hold of the button and gave it a pull, but her fingers slipped before there was any audible ring from within. Again and again she tried with the same result, until she turned the job over to "Nonie." Then the latter yanked and twisted without success, until both stood on the landing gazing helplessly at each other. Then light came unto Bridget.

"I'll tell you phwat it is," she said. "They're playin' th' joke on us fur greenhorns an' th' devils are within houldin' th' shtring!"—New York Tribune.

The blue of the sapphire is seldom pure or spread over the whole substance of the stone. Sometimes it is mixed with black, which gives it an inky appearance; sometimes with red, which, although imperceptible by daylight, yet by artificial light gives it an amethystine appearance. Two sapphires which by daylight may appear of the same hue often differ extremely in color at night. If the stone be held in an ordinary pair of forceps an inch beneath the surface of very clear water, the parts of the stone colored and uncolored will be distinctly apparent. This remark applies to all other gems.

WHERE MARCONI WORKS

WIRELESS WAVE BY THUNDERBOLT

For the first time that day Marconi consented to take the newspaper correspondents into the operating room and explain the process by which the Hertzian waves are started on their way through the ether. The room is about thirty feet square. Near the door is a raised platform upon which the operator stands while sending. The key is on a shelf, and on the wall there is a switch which turns on or shuts off the power from the dynamo.

First sendings by the wireless method were done by means of a wooden lever which operated pump handle fashion. The new key devised by Marconi, while several times larger than the regulation telegraph key, is like it in many respects. It is about twelve inches in length, made of brass, has a gutta percha button and has platinum contact points. The play between the contacts was about an inch. This, of course, can be regulated, but a considerable play is necessary to prevent sticking.

The greater part of the operating room floor space is occupied by condensers. They are about waist high and form a square in the room. Crossing them from corner to corner are two pieces of sheet zinc about a foot wide and ten or twelve feet long. At the left end of the room from the entrance are the electrodes, with three square oil tanks for cooling purposes and two silvery globes about the size of a croquet ball.

There is a space of about four inches between these globes, and it is the crossing of the electricity over this air bridge from one electrode to the other that gives the "spark" and the loud reports when the operator is busy with the key. One of the electrodes, he said, was connected with the aerial wires and the other with the ground. When the electricity was switched into the condensers, it gathered force, passed to the outer wires and down to an electrode.

The opening and closing of the key caused the wires to charge and discharge and the jumping of the current across the air space from one electrode to the other gave the pulsations which the ether took up and carried to the other side of the Atlantic.

Assistant Kemp turned the current on at word from Marconi, and the quick opening and closing of the key was responded to by a spark between the electrodes almost blinding in vividness. The reports were like the crackle heard when lightning strikes at no great distance. The letter "P" or the numeral "6" in American Morse suggested machine gun fire. Dashes were a kind of "zip," a running together of dots.

Before taking hold of the key Marconi stuffed his ears with cotton to deaden the sound and told the visitors that eventually operators would have a sound proof booth to work in.

The receiving instruments are in the same room. The ether waves when they arrive from Glace Bay or Poldhu are rather feeble, but Marconi's magnetic detector rejuvenates the tired vibrations and gives them through a telephone receiver or on a recording tape in clean cut dots and dashes.

Speaking of his latest and greatest project, which is nothing less than the establishment at some central point in the United States of a wireless station from which the news now sent over wires may be sent direct and simultaneously to every newspaper equipped with Marconi receiving apparatus, Mr. Marconi recently said to a New York Evening Journal reporter:

"I consider this the greatest apparatus I have yet contemplated. If it is carried out as at present planned there will be a central station at, say, St. Louis, or some other centrally situated city. To this point the foreign news gathered at many points and concentrated at London will be sent, and the news of various localities on land gathered as at present, except that the wireless stations will be used. The distribution to all the scattered points of the compass where daily newspapers are published will be done simultaneously. Every paper will receive its news at the same instant."

Another idea of Marconi's is that of equipping homes, and at fixed prearranged hours the news could be reeled off for the delectation of subscribers. It would be the wireless ticker, doing away with all mechanical or living accessories whatever, except the equipment in the central station and the receivers. Yet this is no wild dream, it appears. Marconi himself says it is one of the things under serious consideration and will probably be put to the test of experiment very soon.

The British army will soon possess an improved Lee-Enfield, large numbers of which are now being turned out. The mechanism of the new gun is much less complex than that which was used in South Africa. The velocity will be greater, and, as the barrel is shorter, the weight will be less.

Exonerated.

When the urgent call was received at the doctor's office, he was out attending another patient and consequently did not reach the house until two hours afterward. As he entered he met the undertaker coming out. "Ah!" he exclaimed, with a look of deep chagrin, "this is bad. I am, then, too late."

"Don't blame yourself," said the undertaker composedly. "It is not your fault. You were not here."—New York Herald.

Who was known to sport all night and day,

The results of which made his home so bright,
That "Sporty Bill" has changed, I vow,
He's "Will, the Happy Hubby," now.

of the "Risinger Light" he sings in praise.
Each room's a bright, effective hue
He's "Happy, Hubby Will" 'tis true.
